YOUNG G. O. P. LEADERS WILL MEET LANDON

Will Get Acquainted With Republican Nominee

Topeka, Kas., Sept. 17.—(AP)—Young Republican leaders throughout the nation converged on Topeka tonight for a conference to get acquainted personally with Gov. Alf M. Landon and hear the presidential nominee discuss 1936 campaign issues.

The city auditorium, seating nearly 3,500 persons, was reserved for the gathering which Landon will address tomorrow at 2 p. m. (3 p. m., EST). Fred A. Seaton, Kansas Young Republican chairman, said 100 representatives from at least 47 states and the District of Columbia will be included in the audience in addition to a delegation from each of the 105 Kansas counties.

"I believe every state with the possible exception of Vermont will have representatives here," Seaton told reporters, emphasizing that the meeting would be open "to all young voters, regardless of past political affiliations."

The conference assembled in a brief lull between two major campaign trips—last week-end's dash to Maine and next week's tour through Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Illinois. The speeches he will make on this six-day swing through farm territory and tomorrow's talk occupied the nominee today.

"What do you think of Senator Holt? the governor was asked by newsmen at his customary press conference.

"I liked him very much," he replied.

Senator Rush D. Holt, West Virginia Democrat, called yesterday to discuss the works progress administration in which he has charged "scandalous political activities." The senator told reporters he had a file of information on WPA which he would make available to Landon if he wanted it.

"Have you asked for Holt's file?" the nominee was asked.

"There is probably some interesting information there," Landon replied.

Arrest Liquor Ring Suspect

Waupun, Wis., Sept. 17.—(AP)—Nick Aboskets, indicted in Wisconsin and South Dakota in connection with operations of what the federal government said was a huge liquor ring, was arrested here today.

Taken before United States Commissioner Floyd E. Jenkins at Milwaukee, Aboskets' case was continued to Sept. 25 and he furnished bail of $2,500. When the case comes up, Jenkins will determine whether he should be removed to South Dakota for trial.

The government charged that the ring operated out of Port Washington, '28, early in the post-repeal era, but that when federal agents began closing in, it moved to South Dakota, establishing headquarters in Watertown and plants in Codington county.

ELECT OFFICERS

Woman Attacks Manufacture Of Toy Firearms

Claims Devices for Killing Are Being Sold To Children

Chivago, Sept. 17.—(AP)—An attack upon the manufacture and use of toy firearms among children was made here today by Mrs. Jennie R. Nichols of Tacoma, Wash., in her semi-final report to the board of managers of the national congress of parents and teachers.

"It's perfectly amazing the new devices for shooting and killing that are being sold to children," she said. "We need to educate to discourage the practice of giving toy firearms to babies and children. Give a boy a gun and he starts in playing at gangster. And then something happens."

In her report, Mrs. Nichols pointed out that in the United States in 1934, there were 1,233 persons under 20 years of age who died of injuries from toy guns and real ones. Of those, she said, 109 were under five years old, 188 were between the ages of five and nine, 392 between the ages of 10 and 15, and 544 between the ages of 15 and 19. Suicides accounted for 307.

Following Mrs. Nichols report the board announced a national campaign was scheduled to be launched in an effort to abolish the use of toy firearms to prevent tragedies and to reduce juvenile delinquency.

The campaign was planned to be carried out through educational programs in the 25,000 units of the organization, board members decided.

Wayland Brooks Says Gas Taxes Were Diverted

Declares Money Should Have Been Used For Farm Roads

Sterling, Ill., Sept. 17.—(AP)—C. Wayland Brooks, Republican candidate for governor, charged tonight in a prepared address that $21,220,000 of Illinois gas taxes had been diverted from use for motorists' needs and "had been used for other purposes" by the state administration.

Brooks challenged what he said was the use of such funds "for other than road building purposes."

"During the past three years $21,220,000 of gas taxes x x x was diverted for other purposes. This sum would have built more than 5,000 miles of farm-to-market roads. It would have pulled farmers out of the mud and let them haul grain or livestock for shipment when the market was most favorable. Today they must wait until direct roads are passable. They cannot compete or enjoy the advantage of those on hard roads."

He asserted farm-to-market roads would bring business to the merchant in the small town, aid the farmer and his family and give employment to "an army of unemployed."

The Republican candidate pledged himself to "stop the diversion of gas taxes," if elected governor.

Earlier Brooks spoke to gatherings at Savanna and Mt. Carroll.

Pittsburghers Will Hear Knox, FDR Same Night

Pre-Elections Speeches Will Be Made By Candidates

Pittsburgh, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Pittsburgh faced the unusual situation today of having to chose October 1 between listening to President Roosevelt and Col. Frank Knox in pre-election speeches.

President Roosevelt was booked unexpectedly last night to speak here on that date.

Two weeks ago the Republican national committee announced Col. Knox, running mate of Gov. Alf M. Lando, Republican presidential nominee, would speak at Duquesne gardens.

For a time today there was prevalent a belief both parties expected to use the same auditorium.

James H. Duff, Republican county chairman, settled the question of which would use the gardens by showing a contract, and shortly afterwards James P. Kirk, Democratic county chairman, said he was negotiating for use of Forbes Field, home of the Pittsburgh National League Baseball club.

If the latter is obtained, the president would have a substantial edge in seating capacity over his Republican foeman. Forbes field seats more than 40,000. Duquesne gardens 8,000.

Both Democratic and Republican state committee will meet here to to try to swing the tremendous vote of industrial Pennsylvania.

O'CONNELL ESTATE

Chicago, Sept. 17.—(AP)—A petition filed in probate court today showed that the estate of William L. O'Connell, Democratic political leader and general receiver of all closed state banks in Illinois, who died July 24, amounted to $10,000. Letters of administration were issued to the widow, who will share the estate with three children. O'Connell left no will.

DROUGHT GROUP PROPOSES ALL WEATHER ROADS

Would Give Farmers In Illinois Employment

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 17.—(AP)—The Illinois emergency drought committee today adopted a recomendation that the federal government finance the construction of all-weather farm-to-market roads as a work relief project for farmers in counties hard hit by heat and drought.

Ernest Lieberman, state highway engineer and chairman of the subcommittee on roads, said gravel or crushed stone surfacing would cost from $3,000 to $5,000 a mile in southern and western Illinois but said the state and local governments do not have funds for the work.

Lieberman's report was adopted by the drought committee as part of its report to be turned over to Governor Horner and forwarded to President Roosevelt.

As members reported that a serious water supply situation exists in some places, the committee discussed at length a proposal for construction of artificial reservoirs.

M. M. Leighton of the state geological survey read a report from the sub-committee in water conservation in which it was recommended that a few ponds or lakes be built to serve as model recreational areas and sources of water control.

Charleston, which is not located in any of the 35 drought area counties, was reported to be facing a critical water situation. Information was received that some southern Illinois mines are having trouble with water supplies.

"One of the greatest handicaps in rural areas is the lack of all-weather farm-to-market roads," Lieberman said in urging that their construction would provide ready employment for farmers as a work relief project.

When President Roosevelt visited Springfield two weeks ago, he was told that $10,000,000 would be needed this winter to help approximately 25,000 drought handicapped farmers.

Municipal League To Consider Slot Machines, Taxes

City Administration of Motor Tax Fuel Fund Favored

Danville, Ill., Sept. 17.—(AP)—Two questions — municipal administration of the state's motor fuel tax funds and a municipal tax on slot machines, with their consequent legalization—were prepared for consideration of the Illinois Municipal league, opening its 23rd annual convention today.

The gas tax issue, heretofore passed over by the league in its open meetings was thought likely to come tomorrow morning following an address by David Hunter, Jr., Rockford member of the general assembly. The program listed "open discussion" following his talk, and many delegates indicated they would, at this time, voice demands for greater municipal control of the funds.

Opposition was promised however, particularly from city engineers who seemed to feel that the control now vested in the state highway department not only meant a more closely correlated building program but took from their shoulders political pressure to build roads to the satisfaction of partisan leaders.

The slot machine tax proposal did not come into the open today, but was discussed at length as delegates gathered in sectional meetings. A. L. McLarty, secretary of the league, said he had been informed that several resolutions would be placed before the resolutions committee—as yet unnamed—and that he expected the issue to come to the convention floor, perhaps as a minority report.

Pin games—subject of controversy in many Illinois municipalities—also promised argument.

Arthur Smith, Springfield, chairman of the state liquor commission, was subjected to a fire of questions from city attorneys, and others, following his talk on "The Administration of the Illinois Liquor Law." Smith had outlined the extent of the state's control, and was questioned at length by John Reardon, Quincy, corporation counsel, on the recent state supreme court decision which held, in effect, that the state law superseded many municipal ordinances governing liquor sales, hours and other matters.

RATIFY MERGER

Rock Island, Ill., Sept. 17.—(AP)—The Illinois conference of Methodist churches today ratified a proposed merger of the Methodist church north, the Methodist church south and the Methodist Protestant church.

The vote was: ministers 293 yes, one no; laymen, 116 yes, one no.

Bishop Ernest Lynn Waldorf said he was "elated" over the practically unanimous approval.

The proposal had been before two previous conferences but had been rejected.

FATALLY HURT

Tuscola, Ill., Sept. 17.—(AP)—Bert W. Potter, 63, a painter, was fatally injured today when he fell from a ladder in downtown Tuscola. An inquest was scheduled for 8 p. m., tomorrow.

Violent Hurricane Sweeps North Carolina Coast and Threatens Huge Damage

BULLETIN

Beaufort, N. C., Sept. 18.—(AP)—The Cape Hatteras naval station radioed the Cape Lookout station at 1:30 a. m. (EST) that the wind had reached a velocity of 80 miles an hour there and was still rising.

The barometer registered 28.33 and was falling.

BULLETIN

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 18.—(AP)—Telephone communication with Manteo, the only town of any size on historic Roanoke Island, was cut off early today.

Beaufort, N. C., Sept. 17.—(AP)—A violent tropical hurricane, with winds of 75 miles an hour which drove thunderous seas before it, whipped the narrow, sandy North Carolina banks tonight and threatened huge destruction and damage to a wide section of the coastline.

At 10:30 p. m., coast guard headquarters at Cape Hatteras said the naval radio station had been put out of commission and that gusts of wind reached a velocity of 72 miles an hour, with a steady blow of 68 miles. The barometer read 29.20 and still was falling. No casualties had been listed.

A heavy rain, accompanied by a 55-mile wind was falling in Manteo, N. C., on Roanoke Island, about 50 miles aboard Hatteras.

A 68-mile gale was sweeping Cape Hatteras tonight and the barometer was dropping rapidly. At 9 p. m. EST the barometer was at 29.38.

The weather bureau ordered hurricane signals hoisted from Manteo, N. C., north to the Virginia Capes and northeast storm warnings north of Atlantic City to Nantucket, Mass.

The forecasters said the center of the season's worst tropical disturbance would pass over or near Hatteras at 2 a. m., and that indications were the center would pass close to the Virginia Capes about noon Friday.

All shipping from Charleston to New York was warned and officials of relief and governmental agencies were attempting to cut down possible loss of life and property damage by early precautionary measures.

Officials of the coast guard expressed concern for the safety of some 1,500 residents on the Hatteras banks, a stretch of land running 35 miles south of Nag's head to Cape Hatteras.

Reports brought here by motorists parts of the highway between Manteo, N. C., and agis head were under water.

Along the New Jersey coast curling surf and heavy winds imperiled hundreds of lives by closing to small boats every inlet except one on more than 70 miles of coast. The coast guard air base at Cape May predicted gales would reach Cape May about 10 a. m. EST Friday, cancelled all leaves of absence, and manned available cutters for instant departure.

At Atlantic City 10,000 spectators watched the rescue of four men from a floundering 48-foot yacht.

New York headquarters of the coast guard reported tonight that the Freighter El Almirante of the southern Pacific Lines, 60 miles south of Cape Hatteras had requested assistance.

The ship's message said a flange on its throttle valve was broken, causing steam to escape.

The vessel is a 5,000 ton freight ship carrying a crew of 36.

The coast guard said that escaping steam in the vessel might stop its motors, leaving it at the Mercy of the hurricane-lashed waves.

Coast guard officials at Norfolk dispatched the cutter Modoc to aid the El Almirante. The Modoc, following the path of the storm, was proceeding up the coast and was last reported off Oak Island.

Coast guard officials at Norfolk dispatched the cutter Moode to aid the El Almirante. The Modoc, following the path of the storm, was proceeding up the coast an was last reported off Oak Island.

Coast guard officials said the Modoc should reach the El Almirante by morning.

The North Carolina and southern Virginia coast began to feel the force of the blow early this afternon. Gales swept high seas which caused property damage and hurried evacuation of forewarned citiezens from their homes.

Four Indicted By Grand Jury

New York, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Four men, two from St. Paul, Minn., and two from New York, were indicted today by a federal grand jury on a charge of conspiracy to transport $800,000 in securities stolen from the bank of Manhattan company Jan. 28, 1935.

The men named were Morris Roisner, alias Morris Reed, alias R. W. Cutler, and David "Little Dave" Berman of St. Paul; and Moe Sedway, alias Moe Sedwarts, and Jacob "Irish" Greenburg of New York.

The indictment charged the men with conspiracy to return the securities, part of $1,500,000 stolen from the bank, from various parts in the United States where they were held by "persons unknown to the grand jury."

BUYS ESTATE

Stockholm, Sweden, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Greta Garbo, through her brother, purchased today a 1,000-acre county estate 60 miles south of Stockholm in the Province of Sondermanland. The estate, named "Harby" includes a 15-room house dating to 1860 with a view of the small lake Sillen. The purchase price was not disclosed.

Worst Flood in History Sweeps Business And Residential Section

San Angelo, Tex., Sept. 17.—(AP)—More than 70 persons were homeless here tonight as the worst flood in the city's history swept over the business and residential sections.

The entire city of 26,000 population was without water supply as a 50-foot rise in the north Concho river put the pumping plant out of commission. Power lines were down and the city was in darkness.

There was no reported loss of life, but nine persons were marooned in trees and in grave danger.

Three hundred residences were swept into the river, water covered another 200 houses, and a swift current ranging from 12 to 25 feet deep was rushing through part of the business section.

Houston Harte, publisher of the San Angelo Standard Times, estimated the damage at $1,000,000.

Water stood shoulder-deep in the basement of a hospital where there were 125 patients. They were reported in no danger since there was an emergency power plant in operation and hospital authorities had provided an ample supply of food and water.

Refugees were housed in churches and schools in elevated parts of the city under Red Cross direction. Robert Bridge, American Red Cross field worker from St. Louis, who was in charge, said there was an adequate supply of food, but warnings were issued for residents to drink only boiled water.

French Textile Strike Settled By Premier Blum

35,000 Workers Given Wage Increase of Six Percent

Paris, Sept. 17.—(AP)—The Lille textile strike, largest of a widespread wave, was settled tonight after laborious negotiations in which Socialist Premier Leon Blum acted as peacemaker.

Quickly, however, another threat to France's political peace made its apperance—new activity by the militant "French social party," successor to the Croix De Feu disbanded by government decree.

The Lille agreement gave 35,000 workers a six per cent increase in wages and allowed employes authority over factory delegates named by workers to represent them in collective bargaining.

An end to the Lille strike issue lessened concern of the popular front government over occupation of factories and mills throughout much of France.

But the new threat spread fear of possible political fighting between rightists and leftists.

Col. Franciis De La Rocque's followers in the "French social party" placarded the city with gigantic posters charging "the popular front has deceived."

Squads of leftists, some of them shouting "La Rocque to the scaffold," roamed the streets trying to rip down the posters.

Police, fearing violence, were stationed wherever one of the signs appeared. They found La Rocque guards also on the watch and had instructions to call for reinforcements if needed.

Son-In-Law Of Tanner Is Dead

Chicago, Sept. 17.—(AP)—John Alexander Barnes, 77, former Illinois assistant Attorney General and widely known figure in Republican politics for more than half a century, died last night in Alexian brothers hospital.

Barnes, a native of Marion county, was admitted to the Illinois bar in 1894. He served as master in chancery of Clay county for nine years and was a state representative from 1894 to 1896. In 1897 he moved with his family to Chicago. He served as an assistant attorney general from 1926 to 1932.

Three children survive. His wife, a daughter of former Gov. John R. Tanner, died in 1920.

Burial will be in the Tanner lot in Oak Ridge cemetery, Springfield.

SELL INTERESTS

New York, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Owens-Illinois Glass Co., has notified the New York Stock Exchange it had disposed of its entire stock interests in Tavern Rock Sand Co., by the sale of all the shares of that company to Pennsylvania Glass Sand Corp.

ALLEGIANCE IS PLEDGED A. F. L. BY STATE BODY

Illinois Federation Resolution Urges Peace

Quincy, Ill., Sept. 17.—(AP)—Leaders of warring factions of the Illinois State Federation of Labor settled their differences today by pledging allegiance to the American Federation of Labor, but at the same time urging the national organization to make peace with the committee for industrial organization.

Instead of engaging in the bitter debate that was expected the convention decision was reached by happy acclamation and cheers for Ray Edmundson, state president of the United Mine Workers, who had sought a resolution endorsing John L. Lewis, national head of the U. M. W. A., for seeking to organize steel workers through the C. I. O. into an industrial union.

"We not only request, but urge, the representatives of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor and the trade union officials now comprising the committee for industrial organization to consult and confer with each other for the purpose of developing some agreeable arrangement that will increase rather than diminish unity of the trade union movement and that will effectuate the desire of all concerned to extend trade union organization among all classes of workers in the United States," the resolution said.

Approbation, to some extent, of Lewis' defiance of William Green, head of the A. F. of L., which suspended the C. I. O. chief and a million and a half members of ten unions, was expressed when the resolution declared:

"It may be that such step of aggressive defiance was what was needed to properly arouse the labor movement to a keener sense of its duty and functions.

"But if the cleavage is maintained, if permanent division follows, if the labor movement is to be divided into unfriendly parts, then great harm must inevitably follow, the results of which it will take many long weary years to overcome."

William Green Chief Speaker At I. T. U. Meet

Federation Head Defends Ousting of Unions This Month

Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 17.—(AP)—William L. Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, told the International Typographical union today unions suspended from the federation in an industrial unionism controversy chose that suspension.

Defending the ousting of ten unions earlier this month in an address before the Typographical union's eighteth convention, Green, an advocate of craft unionism, asserted:

"Some have challenged the American Federation of Labor's authority to take this action. The executive council could not sit supinely by when the federation was being raided and a dual organization setup.

"We let those organizations know they could make their choice. They complained we had been too slow—that we had only organized three and one half to four million of workers when there were 30 or 40 million workers who should be organized.

"Wouldn't it be better to keep the three or four millions united and facing the enemy together than split wide open? Which is the more important—solidarity of the federation or the committee on industrial organization?"

Green told the convention he did not appear "to try to influence your vote on anything."

Clerk Indicted For Embezzlement

Chicago, Sept. 17.—(AP)—The Cook county (Chicago) grand jury was reported to have voted a true bill late today charging Frank V. Zintak, clerk of the superior court with embezzlement of $22,550 of court funds.

The grand jury's action followed by an announcement from the executive committee of the superior court that the missing clerk had been ousted from office and Attorney Edward H. White appointed to take over the duties of clerk.

White, a former commander of the 124th field artillery, Illinois National Guard, who was retired in 1921 with the rank of brigadier general, was sworn in immediately.

Summoned to appear before the court's executive committee, composed of Chief Justice Joseph B. David and Judge James J. Kelly, Zintak, the 38-year-old Democratic candidate who was seeking re-election, failed to appear. Earlier his attorney, Stephen Love, had promised the clerk would surrender for arraignment on a warrant charging embezzlement from the court's escrow funds.

Judge Kelly said the committee's action in ousting Zintak from office was "without refereence to what the state's attorney will do or has done."

Relief Officers Would Save Local Political Units

Supervisor Declares He Will Not Be Rubber Stamp

Moline, Ill., Sept. 17.—(AP)—A controversy between central and local power on relief was raised by delegates here today at the annual convention of the Illinois Country officers association.

N. W. Lies of Du Page county, who was reelected president of the supervisors division of the association, asserted attempts have been made to impose on the powers of his county board in regard to levying and spending relief money.

"We must stand for government by the people which means by the local township unit," he said. Supervisors will not become "rubber stamps," he added.

George Andrews, chairman of the board of supervisors of Rock Island county, stated "we have met in an effort to save our local political units."

"We have been groping in Springfield, trying to protect these small units from being destroyed," he declared, "and I don't believe we are ready or ever will be ready to centralize our government."

Delegates said that in addition to the election of officers for the association tomorrow, they expected the introduction of resolutions urging local governmental units be given more authority on levying and spending relief money. Such resolutions probably would be adopted, they said.

The greater part of the convention's opening session today was occupied with discussion of relief and local governmental problems with the power issue paramount.

Claims Murder Trap Is Set For Lettuce Workers

Salinas, Calif., Streets Are Being Guarded by 1,000 Deputized Citizens

Salinas, Calif., Sept. 17.—(AP)—A leader's warning that "Massacre awaits you" today kept striking lettuce workers off Salinas streets, guarded by 1,000 deputized citizens with riot clubs ready.

The warning came from A. S. Doss, secretary of the Fruit and Vegetable Workers Union who charged that a "wholesale murder trap" had been set for the 3,200 strikers.

Doss asserted city manager Vic Barlogio admitted that law enforcement officers were "entirely out of control and that there is no law in Salinas at the present time."

Barlogio denied having made the statement.

Despite the lull following Doss' warning to strikers not to assemble in groups, the little city of 12,000 had the appearance of being in a state of siege.

Sheriff Carl Abbott quickly swore in 250 more citizens to bring his special deputy strength to the 1,000 mark. They patrolled streets which they cleared of strikers yesterday in a "flying wedge" movement.

Regular deputies, city police with new supplies of tear and nauseating gas and 130 state highway patrolmen reinforced the special officers.

Unconfirmed reports that the state militia was being made ready for duty here were promptly denied. State authorities said National Guardsmen have been asked to be ready for a possible call, however.

Beatrice Gottlieb Assaulted In Inn

New York, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Beatrice Gottlieb, 28, blonde American golfer who defeated King Edward VIII when he was Prince of Wales, was taken to Metropolitan hospital today for treatment after alleging she was assaulted in a cabaret at Rockaway Beach, Queens.

Carey Phelan, 44, proprietor of the Seaside Inn at Rockaway Beach, was charged with the assault and arraigned in magistrate's court at Jamaica yesterday. He pleaded innocent and his bail was fixed at $1,000 and hearing set for October 1.

Detective James Donahue quoted Miss Gottlieb as saying that while she was at the Seaside Inn with a party of friends, Phelan entered the women's room and assaulted her early Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Joyce Bushel, counsel for the golfer, told Magistrate G. W. M. Weibold her client had been under the care of a physician in her room at the hotel Sutton, Manhattan.

TEACHER MURDERED

Yorkville, Ill., Sept. 17—(AP)—Blanche Shrader, 35-year-old music teacher in the Rockford, Ill., public schools, whose body was found August 14 in the shallow waters of the Fox river, near here, died at the hands of a murderer, a coroner's jury decided today.

The jury said it had determined from testimony given by witnesses at a hearing here that Miss Shrader had died from a blow over the right eye, inflicted with a blunt instrument, and that her body had been carried to the river and placed in the water after death.

IMPEACHMENT DISCUSSED BY JAMES A. REED

Claims President Has Violated His Oath Of Office

Chicago, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Former Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, using a statement attributed to President Roosevelt as the basis of his remarks, devoted a major portion of an address today to a hypothetical discussion of "impeachment."

Reed, an organizer of the Anti-Administration "Jeffersonian Democratic" group, told members of the Chicago Bar Association

"If a courageous and independent House of Representatives had presented articles of impeachment against Mr. Roosevelt containing the single charge: 'He has been guilty of high crimes and misdemeanors in this, to wit, that he has set up powers which may be so exercised as to provide shackles for the liberties of the American people, and presented that article of impeachment to the Senate and had there proved the truth of the charge, a Senate composed of honest and fearless men would have been obliged, under their oaths as judges, to sustain the bill of impeachment."

Reed asserted that on Jan. 3, 1936, the president set forth in a message to Congress:

"They (the economic autocracy) realize that in 34 months we have built up instruments of public power. In the hands of political puppets of an economic autocracy such power would provide shackles for the liberties of the American people."

"Whether rightly or wrongfully employed by the present administration," Reed said, "if powers have been set up by which 'shackles can be riveted upon the American people,' then three things follow."

He said these three things were:

"1. The creation of such powers is in direct defiance of the principles of the Declaration of Independence and of the entire constitution of the United States.

"2. That he who created such a power in defiance of the constitution has violated his solemn oath of office.

"3. That if powers 'to place shackles upon the liberties of the American people' have been set up by one man or one administration, they can be exercised by any succeeding administration or by any dictator who may by stealth or violence gain power."

Motion Pictures Of Nudists Ruled To Be Obscene

Court Views Pictures In Court Room Then Makes His Decision

Chicago, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Motion pictures of nudists, Municipal Judge Samuel Trude ruled today, are obscene.

He rendered his decision after his court room had been converted into a movie theater and two reels of the film figuring in the litigation had been viewed by an audience of some 40 persons.

The pictures were taken in the Zoro Nature Park near Roselawn, Ind., by Stephen Holish of Chicago. He shipped them to the Eastman Kodak Company at Rochester, N. Y., for development. The firm declined to return them. Holish filed suit for their recovery.

Charles Parker, attorney for the defendant concern, said the company's action was based on his fear of violation of a state law forbidding the production of obscene matter.

"There is only one way to determine whether these films are objectionable," he added. "That is to show them."

The jurist and Alois Knapp, owner of the Nature Park and counsel for the plaintiff, agreed. The shades were drawn, a projector and screen were set up and the spectators—mostly attaches of other courts—saw an unclothed company frolic on a sandy beach, engage in impromptu boxing bouts and enjoyed a picnic lunch.

Judge Trude ruled the movies were obscene and the Eastman Company could destroy them.

Knapp, contending they were in the art category, declared he would appeal.

DIES SUDDENLY

Chicago, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Fred A. Barrington, 57, of (3826 Janita Ave.) St. Louis, died suddenly today in the Dearborn street station shortly after he had arrived by train. Coroner's aids said he apparently suffered a heart ailment. He was a division manager for a (Maloney) electric company.

FULL SLATE

Chicago, Sept. 17.—(AP)—John Nystul, campaign manager for William Lemke, union party presidential candidate, said today a full slate of Union party presidential electors was filed today for the state of Wisconsin at Madison.

Academy Hall

One hundred years ago when parents in Illinois and adjoining states wished their daughters to receive a higher education, they sent them to Jacksonville. Ann Rutledge, whose romantic association with Abraham Lincoln is tradition, had expected to come to Jacksonville to attend the Female Academy. Her parents made plans for her departure from the home at New Salem in the fall, but that summer Ann became ill and could not enroll in the school. She and Lincoln often talked of the time she would "go away to school," both envisioning her as a student in Jacksonville. Her untimely death dispelled their dream.

Ann Rutledge never attended the female academy, but the fact that her parents considered it as a place of her education emphasizes the span of years over which the institution exerted an influence over the lives of people of this and other states. Back into dim past goes the history of the Jacksonville Female Academy. Back fifty, seventy-five and one hundred years it reaches, touching the lives of pioneers. From 1830 almost to the present, the majestic old building that stands two blocks west of the business district has been an integrate part of Jacksonville.

Now, the community should take a last, long look at the weatherworn building. It is soon to be removed, bringing to an end a noble institution, one that stood for the highest ideals of womanhood. While the female academy merged with Illinois College early in the century, its history was its own before that time. The ideals have been preserved, but the razing of the old building will bring sadness to many persons, who regret the departure of the last visible evidence of the school.

In recent months expressions have been heard that the structure should be preserved, in view of the part it has played in education in Illinois and the entire middlewest. However, no practical plan could be worked out for its preservation, which would have incurred large expense. As it is, the records will be carefully removed from the cornerstone, and taken to Illinois College where they will be kept for inspection of future generations.

Thousands of young women owed their education to Academy Hall and its staff of instructors. The influence of the school and its graduates was widespread. It is with full realization of its history and traditions that Jacksonville will watch it go, as Jacksonville more than one hundred years ago saw its beginning.

This city is now a greater center of learning than when the female academy was in the prime of existence. Hundreds of college boys and girls are beginning another year to study. Illinois, MacMurray and Routt Colleges, together with other schools, are carrying on the traditions of the Athens of the West. Parents continue to send not only their daughters, but their sons, here to receive an education.

Maine Goes Republican

Maine, which has been considered a political weather-vane for many years, has entered the Republican column. There are rumors of a recount, in some of the closer races, but small likelihood that the results will be switched. Opponents of the New Deal appear to have captured a very definite psychological advantage for the remainder of the campaign.

Each party was prepared to "poohpooh" the Maine election results if they proved to be not satisfactory. Some Democrat leaders dismissed the Republican victory by reduced margin in a traditionally Republican state. But traditional or otherwise, Maine gave the Republican party a net gain of a governor and two congressmen, and such a gain in a single state is not to be regarded lightly.

Senator Wallace H. White's narrow margin victory over Governor Louis J. Brann for United States senator could easily be construed as a rebuff for the New Deal, almost as strong as the Republicans' sweep of the state. Mr. Brann in his campaign preferred to deal with state, rather than national issues. He limited his defense of the New Deal to explaining the need of federal spending in Maine. Mr. Brann was defeated by only 5,000 votes. F. Harold Dubord, gubernatorial candidate who went to bat openly for the New Deal, lost by more than 40,000. The conclusion would be that the Democratic candidate in Maine who stayed as far away from the New Dealers as he could, fared the best in the long run.

Jury Room Whoopee

Serious charges have been lodged against a deputy marshal, a bailiff, a juror and two women as the aftermath of a liquor conspiracy trial in United States district court at Peoria. The citations would indicate that some of the court attaches and jurors engaged in shocking hilarity in the jury room and at a hotel, while the trial was in progress. It is to be hoped the charges are untrue, that they are based on hear-say and not fact, as no one wishes to think of a federal court jury room as a rendezvous of playboys. But if the charges are based on fact, then it should be up to federal officials to act quickly and clean house.

Court attaches who permitted any breach of conduct on the part of jurors should be given attention first. Then the jurors, themselves, should be called to an accounting for violation of their oath, should the alleged infractions constitute such violation.

Much has been said and written about the dignity of courts. There should be dignity in the jury room, too. That is a part of the court.

Both Sides of the Campaign

Official views of the Republican and Democratic National Committees on leading issues of the campaign are presented by leaders of the two parties in this series of 12 articles, taking the place of Rodney Dutcher's Washington column during Dutcher's vacation. The Republican and Democratic arguments are presented on alternate days.

D. A. R. Officer Defends New Deal as 'Pioneering" in Changing Economic and Social Order

By MRS. JAMES H. McDONALD
Vice President General, D.A.R.

Franklin Roosevelt is the first president in the tradition of the American pioneer since Woodrow Wilson. True, the frontier no longer swarms with native Indians. But it is still a frontier where hunger and cold and ruthlessness menaces Americans.

It is the frontier of a changing economic order. And right here let nobody say that a changing economic order is not the American way. The American way began with sanguinary changes in the then economic and political order. For 300 years the American way has been the way of live, vivid struggle for better things. A way which seeks no change is a dead way. It is not the American way.

Is the economic order not changing? Governor Landon at his birthplace in Pennsylvania the other day seemed to admit that it is. But he seemed to indicate also—it is always a little difficult to tell just what the governor means—that, the final frontier geographically having been reached about 1896 when he had reached Kansas, the final economic frontier had been reached in the succeeding eighteen years, when he was growing up and his father was making a fortune out of luck in oil. The era ending with 1914 seems to be the Utopia towards which Governor Landon would lead us in what he calls the American way.

"Tories"—1776 and 1936

Fortunately there is good American experience in the light of which we may examine that state of mind and even give it a name. Back in the days of 1775 and 1776 many men were in that state of mind. Most of them were prosperous merchants. Most of them were prosperous because of some connection with the royal proprietors of the colonies. After the battle of Lexington they, shivering, urged caution. Men called them Tories. The tide of progress, in the American way, eventually swept them into an unhappy oblivion.

The likeness between these men and the men who are supporting Governor Landon is obvious. They would lead us forward by going back. "Crabs" would perhaps be a better modern name for them than Tories.

Governor Landon is their perfect voice. In tones as ringing as he can make them he cries "Back to the American way . . . But!"

It is truly hard to know just what the governor means. If the direction of his progress is crab-wise the words in which he describes it are weak words. His every demand for a return to what he calls freedom of enterprise, 1896-1914 model, is qualified by some concession that perhaps the Roosevelt administration is right about government regulation, about doles, about increase of the federal power.

Signs of the Times

While the governor and his backers are thus twittering about one thing and another, Franklin D. Roosevelt and his administration have done things. And every non-political sign, the signs of actual national progress, shows they were the right thing to meet the changing economic order. The increase in the public debt has been more than justified by the increase in the national income. Few corporations can show such a record of sagacity in return on their borrowings. Few are in as healthy a condition as the Treasury of the United States, whose policies they venture to criticize.

As this is written the Pennsylvania Railroad reports that for July its net railway operating income has increased 56.6 per cent over the same month of 1935. This was one of the roads that protested most loudly against the New Deal's insistence that the railroads cut passenger fares to two cents a mile. The protest, and the result, are typical of that state of mind that calls the New Deal un-American.

It is not the American way, nor the American mind, nor the mind of the true pioneer of either yesterday's or today's frontier. It is the mind of the Tory.

The American way, the way of the frontier, new or old, is to go forth and meet difficulties gallantly, to meet them and to beat them whether they be scalping Indians of the Kansas prairies or the equally savage gentlemen of frenzied finance and special privilege who are likewise unmindful, when they shear their victims, whether the scalp comes away with the hair.

Roosevelt—"Trail Blazer

Franklin Roosevelt even enlisted his own modern type of Indian scout. When he sought to save Wall Street from the scalpers he sent ahead of him that leader of many a financial war party of the old days, Joseph P. Kennedy. And though he was denounced for it at the time, the very men who are now denouncing him for something else are admitting that the system for controlling the stock markets of the country set up under Joseph P. Kennedy has restored the confidence of the public in this system so vital to our economic life.

When he sought to save the farmer from the savages among his ranks he enlisted that trusted chief of farm movements, Henry Wallace. And however politicians may denounce such words as "regimentation," "control," "reduced production," the indisputable fact is that in 1932 the total net profit available for living expenses to the families of six and a half million farmers was $1,460,000,000. In 1935 it was $4,110,000,000—almost quadrupled!

Similar examples might be chosen all the way through the business scale from farm to stock market. The indisputable fact remains that at a time when every savage tribe of the new frontier seemed bent on this nation's destruction, Franklin Roosevelt strode out through new paths. He did things. And they worked.

Next: Harrison M. Spangler, executive assistant to chairman, Republican National Committee, analyzes New Deal finance and government spending.

The Family Doctor

These Common Drugs Are Useful and Safe as Remedies for Family

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

Besides the drugs already mentioned as being suitable for the family medicine chest, it is well to have available a small bottle of glycerine. This is useful for many purposes.

Most commonly, a few drops of glycerine, warmed so as not to burn when tested on the inside of the wrist, are used in the ear as a comforting application in earache.

Bicarbonate of soda is useful in many ways. When added to the bath, it is helpful for itching of the skin. As has already been mentioned, it may be added to gargles for relief of irritation and for removal of mucous.

For a greater number of American business men, it is the common accompaniment of a quick lunch for the relief of what they call "sour stomach."

Nevertheless, it should be pointed out that the regular treatment of this condition with bicarbonate of soda is a dangerous practice, since the pain and the belching of acid material after eating may be the signs of a beginning ulcer of the stomach.

The use of bicarbonate of soda under such circumstances is like pouring water on a firebell to put out a fire.

Aromatic spirits of ammonia is a home remedy useful in bringing about recovery after fainting spells. It may be inhaled or taken internally, one-half teaspoonful in water.

Remember, however, that a fainting spell may be a sign of a weakened heart or a serious change in the circulation of the blood, and is not to be considered lightly.

Then there are ointments of various kinds now widely promoted for many purposes. There are cold cream, zinc oxide ointment, vaseline, and mixtures of these substances with others to be used for irritations of the skin, for burning, cleansing, rubbing, and chafing, and for similar purposes.

Most medicine cabinets will have a styptic pencil, or, better still, a styptic powder, which is applied to small cuts after shaving.

Finally, there has come into popular use an oily spray containing liquid petrolatum, eucalyptus, and menthol which soothes the mucous membranes of the nose in the presence of the common cold.

Here are the common drugs safe to have in most family medicine chests. Many people, however, will find a variety of preparations useful to suit the individual tastes of the family under various conditions.

It is good advice to have the medicine chest and its contents looked over by the family doctor on occasions so that he may indicate the products that ought to be removed. He may suggest addition of others of greater importance for the individual family.

The world's largest carnivorous animal, is the Kodika bear, found in the pure species only on Kokiak Island, Alaska. These creatures often attain a height of 12 feet and weigh more than a ton.

Natives of the interior of Bolivia wear hats and shirts made of tree bark, which is first soaked in water and then beaten until pliable.

Hugh Green Speaks At H.S. Assembly

Gives Talk on Constitution and Describes Functions of Government

Rep. Hugh Green spoke to the students of the local high school yesterday morning about the Constitution of the United States. Mr. Green's address was the main part of a program held in celebration of Constitution Day.

In his speech, Mr. Green touched upon the history of the document and explained its relationship to the present system of government in the United States. He emphasized the importance of the constitution as a basis for the American system of government. He also described briefly the chief functions of the U. S. government, incorporating the use made of the constitution in the explanation.

The address was very appropriate for the occasion and was well received by the students.

Just One Bolt of Lightning Did This

Just one bolt of lightning did this to a tree on the A. C. Reid farm, two and a quarter miles north and west of the city, last Saturday morning.

The tree, a white oak which has been on the farm for more than 77 years, presented a tragic appearance Saturday morning when Mr. Reid, who has lived on the farm all his life, arose. During the night Friday, Mr. Reid said, he heard one clap of thunder which sounded more like a cannon shot than thunder. He arose at that time and looked around his neat appearing farm, but couldn't discover any fire. He went back to bed, and was surprised the next morning when he discovered the giant oak shredded, split, broken loose at the base, with its majestic top on the ground.

Examination disclosed that bark had been thrown 50 to 75 feet from the tree. The tree had rotted away in the middle near the base, but had withstood severe winds for many years. The base of the tree, which measured a little over 11 feet around, was cracked loose from supporting roots. The huge split in the tree began at the point where the two main branches left the trunk about 20 feet above the ground.

The tree stood only a few feet from a garage and granary. The bolt of lightning apparently came into the tree over these sheds and struck at the junction of the main branches.

Mr. Reid recalled that the tree had been on the farm ever since he could remember. He said he could remember the time when, with his father who established the homestead there, the family drove through timber all the way to the northern city limits of Jacksonville.

The clap of thunder which followed the bolt of lightning brought neighbors as far as a mile away bounding out of their beds.

Watch for Bodies of Two River Victims

Jersey County Officers are Notified of Drownings; News Notes

Jerseyville.—Jersey County officials were notified by the sheriff of St. Charles, Mo., that two men had been drowned in the river near Coleman's clubhouse on the Missouri side, either Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning, and their assistance was asked in watching for the bodies.

Particulars of the drowning were not learned but William Pohlman of Grafton Telephone Company was notified and word was sent to residents of the river vicinity and fishermen to be on the look out for the bodies of the men and a careful watch was being kept Wednesday.

Seniors Organize

The senior class of the Jersey Township High School, composed of sixty-one boys and forty-eight girls, completed its organization Tuesday evening. This is the largest senior class in the history of the local school.

Officers elected for the year are: Paul Ritchey, president; Robert Shortal, vice president; Helen Louise Sheppard, secretary; and Jane Mitchell, treasurer.

Mrs. Flo B. Daniels was chosen class sponsor; Mrs. Esther Cox will be in charge of the literary work in connection with the publication of the "J", the school year book, and Louis Pope will be the business manager and faculty advisor for the annual.

Fleming-Lahey

Miss Dorothy Fleming of Jerseyville and Benjamin Lahey of St. Louis were united at seven o'clock Wednesday morning, September 16th at St. Francis Xavier's church in this city. The single ring ceremony was performed by Rev. John J. Clancy, pastor of the church, who was also celebrant of the Nuptial Mass which followed.

The couple was attended by Miss Hazel Murray of Jerseyville and Newell Lahey of St. Louis, a brother of the groom.

The bride is the daughter of Edward Fleming of Jerseyville and is a graduate of the Jersey Township High School. She recently resigned her position in the office of the International Shoe Company in this city.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lahey of St. Louis, formerly of this city. He also attended the local schools and for some time has resided in St. Louis.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES
This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

White Hall Couple Married by Woman Justice of Peace

Well Known Business Couple Married Tuesday in Apartment Home

White Hall—Jewel Luther Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Gray of Fairfield, and Miss Hazel Marie Firth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Firth of White Hall, were united in marriage Tuesday evening in the apartment already prepared for their home in the Chamber of Commerce rooms on Main street. The single ring ceremony was read by Mrs. Geraldine Flynn Frazier, White Hall's first woman justice of the peace, at 7 o'clock. The only witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Barrow.

Both the bride and bridegroom are engaged in business in White Hall. Miss Firth has conducted a beauty parlor here for several years, after graduating from the White Hall high school and taking a course in beauty culture. She has moved her shop from the home of her parents on Carson street, to the apartment where they are making their abode and will continue with her business.

The bridegroom comes from Fairfield and was first employed in White Hall by Clifford Seely in a cleaning establishment and later has been in business for himself in the Walker building on Main street.

Miss Firth and Mrs. Frazier who performed the ceremony have been intimate friends for a number of years and it was a matter of sentiment to have the ceremony read by Mrs. Frazier, who uses a religious service instead of the usual civil law service.

It was Mrs. Frazier's sixth wedding ceremony since she was elected to office in April, 1935.

News Notes

The Good Will class of the Methodist church held their regular meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. E. A. Giller on Apple Creek Prairie west of White Hall. Because of the rain there was not as large a crowd as usual. Mrs. Giller was assisted by Mrs. Loren Fraser, Mrs. Manford Baldwin, and Mrs. Anna Painter. Mrs. Ward Hull was a guest and gave a delightful reading. Another feature of the program was to have each of those present give a Mother Goose rhyme and a prize was offered to the person giving her rhyme in the best elocutionary manner. Plans were made to serve a chicken fry soon.

LeRoy Smith who resides on Ayers street is in very poor health and is suffering with what is thought to be a tumor in his head. He went to a St. Louis hospital Monday for examination but returned home the same day.

Professor John Shepperd of Ann Arbor, Michigan, is here for a visit with his brother, Seth Shepperd and his sisters, Mrs. Clara Bell and Mrs. Dwight Baker. He and his sisters drove to Greenfield, Tuesday and spent the day with their aunt, Mrs. C. V. Mellor and called on other relatives in Greenfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Ashlock who reside east of Roodhouse visited with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Martin in Patterson, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Nichols of Hammond, Indiana, are visiting with her relatives in Woodriver this week and are expected to come here the latter part of the week to visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Nichols on South Main street.

Glasgow People Go To Granite City

Death of Brother Occurs Suddenly; Other News from Community

Glasgow—Mrs. W. A. Barnett and son, Burley, were called to Granite City Monday afternoon by the death of her brother, David Hahn, who passed away at his home there suddenly that afternoon. The deceased was born between here and Patterson and resided there until about four years ago, when he moved to Granite City.

The remains were brought to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Maude Johnson in Patterson, and funeral services were held in the Patterson Baptist church Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with burial being made in the Pine Tree cemetery, near there.

Glasgow Personals

Frank Sawyer and wife and Mrs. Dolly Close of Roodhouse and Mr. and Mrs. Roy McEvers and children were Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. McEvers and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith were here over the week-end visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alsey Smith. Jack is employed in Vandalia, Ills.

Glasgow and vicinity received a nice steady rain Wednesday morning, which started falling about 5 a. m.

Miss Eileen Drummond is now attending high school at Winchester, having changed from Alsey high school, where she had started this year. She is staying at the home of her sister, Mrs. Grant Wishon in Winchester.

Dale Blair has been painting his residence here the past week, with his wife assisting him by painting the interior woodwork.

During the hot weather the first of the week our schools here started each morning at 8 o'clock and let out at noon. As the weather became cooler Wednesday, the regular schedule was resumed.

History of Baptist Baraca Bible Class

The first Baraca Class in the world was organized by Marshall A. Hudson in 1890 in the auditorium of the First Baptist church in Syracuse, N. Y. Ten years later four young men and their teacher, Miss Laura Hammond, 517 South Diamond street, gathered together in the northwest corner of the church auditorium and organized the Baraca Class of the First Baptist church here. There were just enough of the young men to fill the offices of the class and they were accordingly elected president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer. They immediately got busy living up to the national class motto, "Young men working for young men, standing by the Bible and the Bible School." The next Sunday, at the suggestion of their teacher, each of the four men brought his man to the class with him and the Baraca Class of the First Baptist church was started on its way. The class has held this name till six years ago when, to make way for the organization of a class of younger men, at the suggestion of George Smith of Finlay street, the name was changed to the Story Bible Class as Charles Story had taught the class for quite a number of years. He is still the teacher. During the thirty-six years since its organization the class has had only two teachers, Miss Laura Hammond and Charles Story, except during vacation or leave of absence.

As the class grew it moved its location to the south end of the gallery of the church. During the whole of its life the prime work of the class has been, "Young men working for young men," all the other work centering around this thought. When there were about twenty members, the class put on a membership contest which resulted in a membership of ninety-six. The Billy Sunday meetings added still more. This demanded more space. The church gave the class permission to use the small house at the north of the church, provided they would meet any necessary expenses and repairs. The class moved in and the building became known as the Baraca Home. To keep in touch with the "Bible School," which was part of their motto, they met with the Sunday School for the opening exercises and then went to their class room for the lesson and closing exercises.

The men did the work of the remodelling, repairing and redecorating the house, doing the work in the evening after having worked all day at their regular work. All of this work took money. To get this the men collected old newspapers and magazines from all over the city. These were brought to the Baraca Home where they were sorted and baled. They collected a freight car load which was shipped and netted them $300.00. All this work was done on outside time also.

At one time a number of the members got lazy about getting up in time to come to the class. The men divided the names of these delinquents and started out early Sunday morning to wake them up in time to get to Sunday school. When the teams had finished their work, they came back to the Baraca Home where breakfast was served to them by Miss Hammond and her aides.

Some of the additional work carried on by them was the organization and encouragement of a Baraca Class in the colored Baptist church and the helping in carrying on the Sunday School and prayer meeting work at the Baptist Mission which had been started in the First Ward.

In later years, it might be remembered that the class presented Joseph Ludwig a Bible, in recognition of his every Sunday attendance for fourteen years, but it would be impossible to even mention all the members who have been especially loyal and helpful. The present teacher has had the support of many of the officers, and in their memory some who have deacons and trustees of the church, gone on before include viz: Deacons James Stout, Jonas Lashmet, Jerry Cox, Joseph Jackson, M. M. Crum and John M Stewart.

The class has been able to fill-in during vacation times and conduct Sunday morning service, prayer meetings and send out Gospel teams to other churches assist in planning revivals, conducting every-member canvasses and various other activities.

The class invites all men, not in a class elsewhere, to join in this work, and it will endeavor to maintain the same high standards, and hold to the essentials and fundamentals that have made the class out-standing all during its existence.

YES, THIS FOOD ENDS YOUR CONSTIPATION

Look out for those half-sick days, when you feel listless, headachy, out-of-sorts. Your trouble may be constipation. The real cause of common constipation is too little "bulk" in meals. Your system misses its regular exercise.

Get this needed "bulk" in a delicious cereal: Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Within the body, its "bulk" absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, gently sponges out the system.

Why keep on feeling bad when you can feel good? Millions of people use ALL-BRAN. Tests prove it's safe and effective. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Try it a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Serve as a cereal, with milk or cream, or cook into recipes. Remember, ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B and iron.

Certainly you'd rather eat a food than take pills and drugs. Buy ALL-BRAN at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Unoiled Roads Not In Good Condition

Auto Club Advises Drivers to Remain on Pavement; Route Information

Unoiled roads in the northern and central sections of Illinois are not in the best condition this week as the result of rains, and travel over them should be avoided, the Jacksonville Automobile club said in a weekly bulletin issued yesterday. While the rains were somewhat spotty, the traveler who leaves pavement is likely to find the going slippery.

The club bulletin contained the following route information:

Excelsior Springs, Mo., is 260 miles via US-36 to Cameron, Mo., and thence on US-69 to Excelsior Springs. While the new highway bridge at Hannibal is completed there is some construction on the road on the Illinois side and the old road is still in use, crossing the river via the Wabash railroad bridge.

Cleveland, Ohio, is 595 miles via US-36 to Springfield; US-66 to Chenoa; US-24 to Napoleon, Ohio, and US-6 to Cleveland. All paved.

Traffic to Yellowstone National Park is not recommended as hotels are closed and weather conditions may stop all traffic in the park.

Giants Pound Five Dodger Pitchers For 23 Hits and Snatch Game 17 to 3

Brooklyn, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Maybe it was because their prospective world's series opponents were in the stands; or perhaps they were remembering 1934. Anyway, the New York Giants pulled up closer to the National League pennant today by uncovering their heaviest hitting attack of the season to trample their one-time jinx, the Brooklyn Dodgers, 17 to 3.

While several members of the American League champions cast, the Yankees, took a "busman's holiday" and watched the battle, the Giants walloped five Dodger pitchers for 23 hits and their biggest run-making and base-hitting spree of the year.

The victory, with Gabbo Gabler pitching seven-hit ball and Hank Leiber providing a homer with the bases loaded, pulled the Giants five full games in front of the second-place Cardinals, who were idle today.

Apparently recalling that the Dodgers blasted the Giants out of the pennant two years ago in the season's final series, after Bill Terry's now historic crack—"Are the Dodgers still in the league"—the New Yorkers got under way from the opening bell today and were never in any danger from the first inning on.

Every man in the starting lineup, except Mel Ott, whose bat was strangely silent, got into the spirit of the thing, accounting for at least two hits a-piece. Dick Bartell contributed four, a double and three singles, while Leiber had a pair of two-baggers as well as his homer, driving in five runs.

A big seven-run fourth inning, featured by Leiber's round-tripper, was the clincher for the Giants. Before that they had gotten two runs in the first and another in the second on a total of half a dozen doubles.

Staked to his big lead, Gabler bore down from the fourth on, and allowed but one hit from the fifth through the ninth, for his ninth victory against six defeats. Ed Brandt, the Dodger starter, lasted less than two innings, but was charged with his 13the defeat of the season.

A fight almost developed in the Dodger third, as Jojo Moore, trying to make a leaping catch of Joe Stripp's long fly, pushed the ball into the stands, but in foul territory. Umpire Magerkurth first ruled it a homer, and then, after the Giants protested, the arbiters went into a huddle and reversed the decision, calling it a foul ball.

Tigers Wallop Indians 5 To 2

Detroit, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Jake Wade, recruit hurler, pitched the Tigers into sole possession of third place in the American League today, stopping the Cleveland Indians with seven hits while his mates were chalking up a 5 to 2 victory.

With the Washington Senators idle, the victory for the Tigers broke a third place deadlock and dropped the Nats to fourth.

A double by Irv Burns and singles by Charley Gehringer, Goose Goslin and Al Simmons sent Detroit off to a two-run lead in the first inning. Gerald Walker singled, reached third on an error and came home after being trapped between third and home in the second. Simmons' fly drove another across in the fifth, and Burns' double sent the last one over in the sixth.

Bucs Take Wild Game From Reds

Pittsburgh, Sept. 17.—(AP)—The Pirates banged four Cincinnati pitchers for 22 hits today and easily downed the Reds 14 to 10 in the first game of their series.

They scored in each of the first seven innings, featuring their attack with a four-run rally in the third, and another in the fifth, in which Arky Vaughan hit a homer with a mate on base.

The Reds did all their scoring in two innings, getting five in the third, when they blasted Jim Weaver, the Buc starter, off the mound, and five more in the ninth, largely through Mace Brown's wildness. Brown took credit for the victory.

New Coach Finds Whole Team Available at Pleasant Hill

Pleasant Hill.—Harvey Dickinson, who just graduated from Culver-Stockton college last June, had a pleasant surprise when he looked over the Pleasant Hill football team for the first time not long ago, for the new coach and director of athletics here had no idea of what kind of a football set-up would face him. He found 11 lettermen, a whole team, awaiting him.

That prospect, however, didn't cheer him much, because when he looked over the record made last year, he found that Pleasant Hill didn't get into the winning column. Right now, however, he plans to take each game as it comes along and do the best that can be done—and he is just about ready to admit that the Blue and Gold lads will cause some trouble up and down the Illinois Valley league.

Already any bright dreams he might have had have received a jolt. Dave Smith, a veteran tackle, twisted a knee in practice and probably will be on the shelf for awhile. That blow has been partially off-set by a fine spirit on the part of the players. They have been willing to put in some hard licks at training during the hot weather, and given a day or two of cool weather, they have shown even more energy.

Dickinson has an unusual college record behind him. He played football four years at Culver-Stockton, and was captain of the team two years, and twice was selected for all-state honors. Likewise, he played basketball for four years, was a captain one year, and won all-state honors three years. He was a member of the baseball team for three years.

The Pleasant Hill team gets into action this afternoon at Palmyra, Mo., and there the coach will be able to get his first slant on the possibilities of the team. The team won't be heavy, averaging around 147 pounds.

The team probably will line-up with Capt. Crader and Eugene Goodman at ends, weighing 147 and 165 pounds respectively. The two tackles, Gerald Ferguson and Leslie Goodin, weigh 160 and 150 pounds, and the two guards, Lee Weir, 135 pounds, and Russel Ator, 145 pounds, will operate at the side of Charley Cheek, a 145 pound center.

Ernest Burge, 140 pound quarterback, William Freeman, 170 pounds, and Lloyd Barrowman, 145 pounds, halfbacks, and Maurice Wall, 147 pound fullback, probably will make up the backfield. They are all veterans, with the exception of Ator, who is filling in for the injured Dave Smith.

The Pleasant Hill schedule is as follows:

Sept. 18—At Palmyra, Mo.
Sept. 25—Greenfield here.
Oct. 3—At Roodhouse.
Oct. 10—At White Hall.
Oct. 16—Pittsfield here.
Oct. 23—Louisiana, Mo., here.
Oct. 31—Winchester here.
Nov. 7—Jerseyville here.

Browns Defeat White Sox 5-2

add Browns Defeat

St. Louis, Sept. 17—(AP)—The seventh place Browns socked the runner-up White Sox 5 to 2 today, shaving Chicago's margin over the third place Tigers to one game as Detroit defeated Cleveland by the same score.

The speedy Lyn Lary started the run parade in the first when he beat out a hit and stole second to get into position to advance to third on Julius Solter's fly and came home when Beau Bell banged out another high one to Mike Kreevich. But it was a 3-run rally in the eighth after two were out that broke a 2 to 2 tie and put the Browns out in front to stay.

In that inning after Harlond Clift popped to Luke Appling and Solters flied to Kreevich, Bell beat out a bunt down the third base line. Jim Bottomley sent him to second with a single and Sammy West scored Bell with another clean hit. Rollie Hemsley was walked, filling the bases and when pinch hitter Ed Coleman strode to the plate, relief Pitcher Clint Brown took the place of Monte Stratton.

Coleman came through with a single scoring Bottomley and West.

A low throw by Tony Piet led to the second Brown run in the third.

Kreevich started the Sox' only scoring inning with a bunt along the third base line. Rosenthal's single sent him to second and he reached third on Zeke Bonura's infield blow. Lary fielded the ball and threw to Tom Carey too late to nab Rosenthal at second but a swift peg to first caught Bonura. Appling was purposely passed and after Jack Hayes popped out, Piet singled home two runs.

Lary's steal was his thirty-third of the season.

FAN BREEZES

By Ernest Savage

Jacksonville high's gridders will take to the field tonight in equipment which is practically 100 percent better than it was when Coach Frank Walker came to Jacksonville.

It's bene a long uphill pull for the Crimsons to get some decent football togs, but the retrenchment program reached the goal this year.

J. H. S. varsity gridders now are equipped with new shirts, new pants, new stockings, headgears which have been used only in games for one year, and shoulder harness which has seen only one season of use. All of the pieces of equipment furnished by the high school athletic association are practically new.

New shirts, designed for a college team, were issued to the varsity players yesterday. Coach Walker, in his various ramblings about the state, ran onto a set of shirts made up for a college team, but rejected. The wholesaler found that the colors in the shirts were Jacksonville high colors, and offered them to the school at a big reduction. The bargain was too great for the coach to turn down.

The Crimsons are far from the ragged array that formerly went out to play football now. They could use some more equipment, but the immediate needs have been met.

Coach Bruno Bierman, at White Hall, won't tell us a thing about his football team this year. He did let down enough the other night to say that he didn't believe he could beat Beardstown, didn't have much hope of beating Roodhouse, confessed that Carrollton might take them into camp, and that he might not win over one or two games this year.

Then we find he has a line which will run close to 170 pounds, or maybe it is only 165, but still a pretty big line. His backs may not weigh over 165 pounds, on the average.

Just the same, all our White Hall friends tell us to keep an eye peeled on that outfit, so that's what we're going to do.

John Glenn, who has a number of friends in this city, returned to Beardstown recently from Lawrence, Kansas, where he visited with Phog Allen, basketball coach. Allen is sick in the hospital at present, but was well enough to have visitors.

As a memento of that trip, Glenn brought back with him a copy of Allens' latest book on basketball. The volume bore the famous basketball coach's autograph.

Two games have been tentatively agreed upon for the Illinois College freshman team this year. Thus far Hannibal-LaGrange and Millikin freshmen are on the schedule. Athletic Director LaRue Van Meter is trying to arrange a game with Shurtleff college, which resumed football this year after a lapse of a few years.

Another of the Illinois College athletes, "Dead-Man" Clark, come back to the campus somewhat underweight. Clark who played first base for the Blueboys during the baseball season, has a piece of steel in his neck as the result of an accident in the car shops at Centralia, where he worked alongside "Swampy" Miles, the dynamic catcher. The injury seemed to take a lot of Clark's weight, although it is not regarded as serious.

—o—

According to our Jerseyville operative, the squirrel hunting time limits in this section are all wrong this year. The young squirrels are too young to be weaned as yet, he reports.

—o—

Just what the cause is for late maturity this year is difficult to say, but a number of sportsmen down in that vicinity have reported finding squirrels too young to be in nests all alone, and have quit hunting until the babies are big enough to take care of themselves.

—o—

One of the young squirrels, orphaned by a huntsman's gun, has been taken to the WPA office in Jerseyville, where employes are feeding the little fellow goat's milk by using an eye dropper.

—o—

They have a sense of humor, apparently, for the WPA men have named the squirrel "Boondoggler."

Our forecast that Jacksonville high would have a line which would average close to 60 pounds probably will be upheld when Coach Frank Walker

Walker Names Starters For Initial Tiff; Three Other Games to Inaugurate Year

High school football teams, most of them with about three weeks of practice under their belts, will uncork their 1936 schedules this afternoon and tonight on four near-by fronts, and still another pair of teams will get into action in earnest Saturday afternoon.

Tonight will be the big night for the Jacksonville High school gladiators, who look better at the present stage of the practice season than they did mid-way of last year. They'll go to Pittsfield for a battle under arcs with Bob Wright's first band of Indians. That game will bring together teams coached by graduates of the University of Illinois coaching school, and will resume a scrap that began several years ago.

Coach Frank Walker yesterday selected the line-up that probably will dash out to defend the name of the Crimsons, while Coach Wright probably will depend upon a lighter and fast team. The game, slated to get underway at 7:45 on Pittsfield's well lighted gridiron, should bring out some real early season football, for both teams have a sufficient number of veterans available to put out some fancy playing.

Coach Walker said yesterday he probably would start Marshall, 160 pounds, and Johnston, 165 pounds, on the ends; Bourn, 160, and Captain Winfield Chinowith, 161, at the tackles; Engleman, 185 and Greenleaf, 150, at guards; and Strowmatt, 155, at center in the line. Abel will play quarterback position, Summers, 155, and Scott, 155, are the probable halfbacks, and Rabbit Ranson, 165, the probable fullback. Ranson will direct play from the fullback position.

The arrangement will give Walker a line that will average 162 pounds, and one that is almost evenly balanced from end to end. Chinowith, Greenleaf and Strowmatt had plenty of experience last year and the other boys have been out for the squad before.

All the Crimson backs performed last year. Ranson was a regular, with Abel, Summers and Scott working a large part of the time. Ranson does the throwing as well as some of the ball carrying, and probably will have some of the kicking work on his rather capable shoulders.

Coach Wright has three backfield and three line men available from last year's team. His backfield probably will consist of Glen Willard, Murphy, Smith and Royalty, and the veteran linemen, Capt. Lowe, McCarter and Fred Berry will be in the starting line-up. Cox, Vertrees, Kelly, Geisendorfer, Hoos, Jordan and Junior Willard are scrapping for the other three places. The team will average a little over 140 pounds.

Hickle, R. Schildman, Bob Spink, Newberry, Wernle, Brown, McMasters and Oxley will make up the reserves for the Crimsons.

Winchester's Wildcats shoved around by the powerful Beardstown Tigers last week in a practice game, will bump into something more to their liking when they go to Virginia this afternoon for a game with the Red-Heads. Coach Paul Auwarter had only three veterans to begin the season, and Winchester's entire stock of material is rather light.

The game at Virginia, scheduled for 2:45, probably will see a couple light teams using speed to accomplish what heavier teams attempt to accomplish by brute strength. Coach Andrew Chapman lost a large number of his big boys last year at Winchester, and the newcomers haven't been as big as the coach would like to have them.

Carrollton's Hawks, who finished second in Illinois Valley league last year, have taken on Quincy for their opening game and will play tonight at Eagles Park in the Gem City. Coach O. L. Krughoff has found that he needs a punter and a passer, but otherwise is fairly well stocked with men to make this season interesting. Roodhouse held Quincy to a 6-0 score last year in the opening game, and the Hawks hope to do as well if not better.

Despite a gloomy forecast by Coach Bruno Bierman, who declared his White Hall laddybucks had little hopes of pulling the tail of the Beardstown Tiger, football fans are looking for a battle when the Tigers roll down to White Hall Saturday afternoon. Beardstown has almost all of its powerful team of last year back this year.

White Hall probably will use Schier and Egelkraut, veterans, on the wings, Daniels and Erb, tackles, Ahern and Norris, guards, Marshall, center, "Alley-Oop" Wendell and "Red" King, halfbacks, Wyatt, quarterback, and Dean Fair, fullback. The team will average close to 170 pounds, and will be one of the heaviest teams in the Illinois Valley conference this year.

Engineers Point Out 3 Sites for City Lakes; Figure Cost Per Gallon

Jacksonville has three possible additional sources of water supply that are feasible and practical, dependent on the amount of money expended, M. P. Hatcher, consulting engineer, reported to the citizen's water committee Wednesday night. Hatcher was assisted in presenting his plans and estimates to the committee by City Engineer Kenneth Stapleton, who worked with him in making the surveys.

Two sites on Mauvaisterre creek and one on Big Sandy creek were included in the report, these projects ranging in cost from $80,000 to $120,000. All of the lake-sites under consideration are south and east of the city, and would feed by gravity into the present Lake Mauvaisterre, which is at an alarmingly low stage because of drought.

No Action Taken

Members of the citizens' committee took no action after hearing the engineer's report, but asked many questions and will continue study of the situation. With the conclusions of the consulting engineer completed, future action now appears to be a matter of finance. If the city obtains a grant from the government for expanding the water supply, a more elaborate program can be considered.

A reservoir could be built on the south branch of the Mauvaisterre, southeast of the present lake, for $80,000, to impound 500 million gallons of water, the engineer reported. This would practically increase the supply 50 per cent, as Lake Mauvaisterre has a capacity of 575 millions gallons. Figures submitted by the engineers indicated that 250 acres of land would be required.

The second project they recommended is located on the upper Mauvaisterre, southwest of Arnold. This lake would impound a billion gallons, cost $130,000, and occupy 380 acres of land. It would increase the present storage 75 per cent.

The Big Sandy reservoir, largest of the three considered, would provide two billion useable gallons of water, and cost $180,000. It would cover 870 acres of land.

Give Cost In Gallons

Figures of the engineers show that a reservoir could be built on the south branch of the Mauvaisterre for $145 per million gallons impounded. The upper Mauvaisterre project would cost $130 per million gallons, while the Big Sandy project would provide water at the rate of $90 per million gallons.

Hatcher, who represents the firm of Burns and McDonnell, Kansas City, Mo., and Stapleton reported that they considered a number of other sites at further distances from the city, but that these were eliminated one by one because of excessive cost of pumping, or for other reasons.

The engineers told the committee all three projects upon which they made reports are feasible and within reasonable cost of the amount of money to be expended on each of them.

The committee meeting was held at MacMurrry College with I C. P. McClelland presiding.

Mid-West Campaign Planned by Landon

Topeka, Kas.— (AP) —Gov. Alf M. Landon, preparing to carry his presidential campaign into the agricultural middle west, said today the Republican party offers a "dependable, permanent program" to replace "present stop-gap policies of this administration."

"The policies by wnich this administration is trading off the markets of the American farmer must be changed," the nominee told newsmen.

He left details for discussion at Des Moines, Sept. 22 in the first of three major speeches to be made on the tour.

"I am happy to accept invitations to speak at Des Moines, Minneapolis and Milwaukee and to visit with my fellow citizens in the agricultural middle west and lake states," the governor said.

The midwest campaign swing will be through Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Illinois. He will speak Sept. 24 at Minneapolis and Sept. 26 at Milwaukee. (All three will be broadcast, each scheduled for 8:20 Central Standard Time).

Tomorrow at 2 p. m., Central Standard Time, the governor will address a national conference of Young Republican leaders here. (The address will be carried over the National Broadcasting company's network).

Governor Landon is expected to spend Sunday, Sept. 27, at the Sinissippi farm of former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois near Oregon, Ill., returning to Topeka the next day.

SETTLE DIFFERENCES

East St. Louis, Ill.—(AP)—Declaring that differences between the Kelly-Nash machine in Chicago and Gov. Henry Horner had been cleared up, Charles W. Hadley, Republican candidate for attorney general, opened his campaign in St. Clair county here last night.

"I have found," Hadley said, "that Governor Horner would try to lead voters to believe he is in no way associated with the Kelly-Nash machine; . . . but the whole setup is just as it was four years ago when Kelly-Nash elected Horner governor."

PREACHER PAINTS CHURCH AT GLASGOW

Pisgah Pastor Wields Paint Brush; Women Members Prepare Chicken

Glasgow—Rev. Garfield Rodgers of Pisgah, who supplies the pulpit of the Glasgow Baptist church twice a month, evidently believes in keeping his house in order. Tuesday of this week was chosen for all members possible to gather at the church and help paint the exterior of the edifice. And, lo and behold, Rev. Rodgers appeared upon the scene early that morning bedecked in overalls and painter's cap, and very energetically wielded his paint brush all during the day. No doubt the fried chicken served at noon in the church basement served as an inspiration to him, however he very ably proved that he could paint as well as preach. About 25 members gathered during the day to help paint the exterior of the building. Nearly all of the first coat of paint was put on Tuesday.

Dinner was served by the ladies present in the church basement at noon.

Today has been chosen to finish the painting job. Dinner will again be served in the church basement for the workers.

GOVERNMENT WARNS OF BOGUS FIVE AND TEN DOLLAR NOTES

Treasury Department officials have issued a warning to police and sheriffs of Illinois that new counterfeit $5 notes and $10 and $20 federal reserve notes are being circulated throughout the country.

The $5 notes bear the portrait of Lincoln, the $10 notes the portrait of Hamilton, and the $20 notes the portrait of Jackson. The $10 and $20 notes, especially the $20, indicate good workmanship, while the work on the $5 notes is poorly executed, the portrait being smudgy and the serial number is printed in type face unlike the genuine article.

The Treasury department advises those not familiar with handling this type of money to exercise special care to avoid deception.

CCC Camp Training Discussed At Meet

Dr. Robert Brown is Speaker At Meeting Held Here Last Night

Dr. Robert Brown, educational supervisor at Camp Jacksonville, speaking at the meeting of the Business and Professional Woman's club Thursday evening, at the American Legion home, stated that the results of the work of the CCC camp would be felt in citizenship, in economic life and in the social order of the country, as well as a powerful influence against crime.

The president, Miss Hester Burbridge, opened the meeting, following the supper. She presented the guests and introduced the speaker, who most interestingly told of the objectives of the department of the camp.

Dr. Brown said that in 1933, when the President put the boys to work it conserved the national morale, the families and built up citizenship. At one time there were 516,000 boys in camp, now there are 350,000, of which 75 per cent are boys under 21 and half of that number are between 17 and 18. Students of criminology and sociology tell us that the most crimes are committed between the ages of 19-20. The type of boy is a cross section of all classes some good and some bad. The average education in camps is nine and one-half years, in Chicago it is eight years.

The educational program was described as a phase of adult education, as individual; those of the type of the fourth and fifth grades and the college graduate. The speaker emphasized the need of a consulting program for many times the needs of the boys are confused. There are no compulsory studies said Dr. Brown, except that they must learn to read a newspaper and to write a letter home, being required to be literate. There are 92,000 taking elementary subjects.

The training differs from that of the public schools in that the need and interest of the individual boy is the guide to his study. It may seem a rather unorthodox method, however it gains the best results in the camps. The classes in radio, which proved the most popular were those teaching the continental code. Dr. Brown also spoke of the classes starting in English, which found that in letter writing they needed punctuation, and were then eager to study the first principles.

He also spoke of the training on the job to build dams on farms, surveying, forestry, agriculture, brick laying, in reality an apprenticeship training, which was extremely valuable. Vocational training is given during the recreational periods. Over 50 per cent take vocational work, including wood work, metal work and collections, which are helpful to their morale. Their education in citizenship is fine, teaching them about government social order and the finer things of life.

A job placement bureau is maintained which is proving a great benefit, to a large per cent. Ten days are given for a boy to follow up an application, if the officers recommend it.

In stating the benefits, Dr. Brown mentioned that the boys gained weight, averaging seven pounds, explaining that in one case a boy arrived so weak that it was necessary to give him four meals a day before he was strong enough for routine work. The death rate is lower, as the result of a careful program of health, first aid and safety and good citizenship.

Preceding the address group singing was enjoyed, lead by Miss Lorene Deweese. During the business session announcement was made of the regional meeting to be held in Springfield on October 2, at which time Miss Charl Ormond Williams, national president, will make an address.

Guests present were Mrs. Elmera H. Frerk, Mrs. Robert Brown. The committee in charge of the supper included: Miss Minnie Wyatt, Miss Opal Tillman, Mrs. Wilber Rogers.

The next meeting will be held October 1, arranged by the program committee. The supper committee will be Miss Gertrude Atkins, Miss Mary Clampit and Miss Verna Butcher.

City Council Votes to Reject PWA Offer Of Grant For Streets

to taking any more steps in an effort to get the fund. All of the members of the council recalled that McCalman had a bona-fide contract to resurface the square and could not be expected to give it up, and even if he did give it up, there was no hope of raising enough money for the city to pay its share of the cost on improvements to the other streets in the project.

Leonard and Six were awarded the contract to furnish stone chips for the Brooklyn and Chambers street project at a price of $2.01 a ton delivered to the job, and the Springfield-Pekin Sand and Gravel company was awarded the contract to furnish sand for the same project at a cost of $1.36 a ton delivered to this city in railroad cars, the city to pay for unloading and hauling to the scene of operations. Bids also were submitted by the Columbia Quarry company, Lincoln Crushed Stone company of Joliet, and by Shelby Fortner of this city.

The council also passed a resolution relieving the firm of Bishop, Grady and Coultas of Winchester of any damages which might be caused by their failure to furnish the city with gravel, according to a contract they hold, and they in turn agreed to release the city from any damages which might be sought because the city failed to secure the gravel from them. The vote was 7-1, Alderman George Brown opposing the release.

Alderman Brown also learned from the city engineer that the Wabash Railroad company is planning to repair its crossings in Jacksonville, and that material for the work already has been ordered. The railroad company on the other hand has asked that the request to repair the crossings be kept out of the Commerce Commission, but the city attorney, Edward Cleary, said he already has taken up the matter with the Commerce Commission and that officers of the railroads involved will be called into a conference here sometime in the near future to talk over the problem.

Alderman Brown asked that the Wabash send its representative to the council to explain what the company plans to do before any work is started. He declared, and most of the other aldermen agreed, that the city should know what is going to be done before any work begins. An effort will be made to bring the council and the Wabash engineer together.

Reporting on proposed ordinances regulating taxi-cabs, the city attorney turned over to the ordinance committee the ordinance adopted in Springfield recently, an ordinance proposed by the General Motors Corp., and a uniform traffic ordinance. The Springfield ordinance licenses taxi-cabs at $75 for the first cab, $25 for the second and $2 each for all additional cabs. Other phases of the Springfield ordinance also were presented by the city attorney in an informal resume.

City Clerk John R. Phillips reported that the city's share of the Motor Fuel Tax fund for August amounted to $2,958.94 which he said he believed was the largest amount ever credited to the city's account in one month. He also read a report submitted by Justice of the Peace A. B. Opperman, and filed the report of the city treasurer on instructions from the council.

John Green, a resident of North Webster avenue, addressed the council for a few minutes in an effort to learn what had been done regarding an improvement to his street, and was informed by Alderman W. H. Cocking that the project for improving this street has not been submitted as yet. He said he was afraid that if a project for this street was submitted at the present time to the state highway department, the improvement to be paid out of Motor Fuel Tax funds, it would be refused because the city already has made more improvements to dirt streets out of this fund than is ordinarily allowed.

LISTEN to a success story: But remember that you haven't heard the whole story until you have listened to your motor after filling the tank with Phillips 66 Poly Gas!

The times have been tough. And so has the competition. Yet, every year right through the Depression, sales of Phillips 66 kept climbing higher and higher to new record-breaking levels.

Obviously when every man and woman had economy uppermost in mind, only a product giving exceptional value could have earned such tremendous gains in popular approval.

Today, thanks to wise and thrifty motorists, Phillips is one of the largest Independents in the entire oil industry. And as an Independent, Phillips has rolled up a remarkable record of pioneering.

Phillips was first to match gasoline to weather. First to offer high test gasoline at the price of ordinary motor fuel. First to offer at all its stations the extra-powered gasoline resulting from the patented POLYmerization process.

From the very beginning, we have honestly and confidently promised that you would feel that difference with your first trial tankful. Many new thousands of drivers must be doing so every day—must be noting the added power, pep, pick-up, and mileage—because Phillips sales figures are still headed steadily and sharply upwards.

Why not give your motor a chance to surprise you! Try a tankful of the new Phillips 66 Poly Gas. It's a sensational motor fuel. And a sensational value, too, since it does not cost a penny more than ordinary gasoline.

Stresses Return to Local Aid

Delegates to Annual Meeting of Mobilization for Human Needs Hear Roosevelt Plea on Relief.

TELLS OF PROGRESS

Washington—(AP)—President Roosevelt told an annual meeting of the mobilization for human needs today that national income soon would be double what it was at the low point of the depression and that "confidence has returned to the great mass of our people."

Several times he referred to "returning prosperity" and on that thesis built an argument that private relief organizations should expect a larger measure of private aid and that every individual has a greater obligation "to aid in the relief of distress in his or her own community."

From the south portico of the White House, Mr. Roosevelt spoke to mobilization delegates gathered on the lawn. The organization seeks support for those social services financed by private funds rather than by taxes.

"Through you," the president told his audience, "I appeal to every man, woman and child in the United States for a revival throughout the length and breadth of the land of the spirit of charity.

"Increase of the spirit of charity would be a better way of putting it—for I am very proud of the support of the country's welfare services of all kinds in the past seven years."

Turning to general economic conditions, Mr. Roosevelt asserted:

"Since the low point of the depression great and substantial progress has been made. The national income will soon be double what it was then.

"Nearly six million more men and women are now at work in private industry. Three million others are engaged in useful work provided or assisted by government. Factory payrolls the first quarter of this year were more than $70,000,000 greater each week than they were in the first quarter of 1933.

"Systematic and successful efforts to raise the buying power of wage earners and farmers have increased the business of merchants and brought orders to manufacturers. Confidence has returned to the great mass of our people; confidence on the part of all except a small minority who seek profit from the preaching of fear."

The government, he said, has attempted through the Social Security Act to remove at least part of personal and family insecurity by cooperative federal-state welfare work, unemployment compensation and old age benefits.

Quickly he continued, however, that efforts of private agencies to encourage private employment for those on relief, to provide medical care, to look after special problem cases and to build up recreational opportunities were "tasks more fitted to private than government administration."

Peach of a Gift for President

Peaches and cream—the complexion, incidentally, of Mozelle Cravens, above—should feature the White House menu for some time to come. When these Michigan peaches arrived in Washington, President Roosevelt was absent on his western tour. But Peach Queen Mozelle, delegate of her state's festival association, delivered the fruit just the same.

Get Legislation by Being United, Says Muny League Head

Urges City, Village Officials to Stand Together to Obtain Home Rule

Danville, Ill.—(AP)—Mayor John W. Kapp, Jr., of Springfield as president of the Illinois Municipal League today urged city and village officials to stand together in asking legislation for their goal of local home rule.

The keynote was municipal unity in the speech Kapp prepared for delivery at the opening of the league's 23rd annual convention here. He said:

"We must become more efficient in rendering municipal services within our cities and villages and we must become more efficient in out statewide organization of municipalities for the preservation and protection of our inter-municipal concerns. x x x

"Well managed cities must become concerned over the mismanagement of other municipalities or sooner or later an attempt will be made to get a law passed that will deprive all municipalities, both good and bad, from the local management of their municipal affairs."

Kapp recommended that the convention consider an increase in effectiveness in securing the passage of favorable legislation and the defeat of bills opposed by city officials.

Secretary A. D. McLarty of Springfield reported to the league that its membership now includes 34 municipalities, an increase of 18 in a year.

McLarty said 179 cities and villages have entered the league's injunction suit, now before the Illinois Supreme Court, against payment of the three per cent utility sales tax by municipal utility plants.

A favorable decision, he said, would mean an annual saving of $150,000 yearly to the 519 municipal water plants and 58 electric plants.

Delegates from 500 of the 634 cities comprising the league were expected to be present for the three-day meeting, McLarty, said.

The purpose of the convention, he added, "to exchange ideas with the intention of increasing social dividends by improving the quality and lowering the unit cost of municipal services," would be realized through adoption of a program to be worked out by the resolutions committee during the course of the meetings.

The league—unsuccessfully—sought increased home rule acts from the state legislature earlier in the year. It was considered a certainty that groundwork for another effort along the same line would be laid at this year's convention.

Delegates said that the greatest difficulties confronting municipal officers at present are regulations of taxi-cabs and pin-ball machines—two subjects expected to be thoroughly discussed during the convention.

McLarty's annual report listed numerous achievements of the last year among them the league's information service, the Illinois Municipal Review, the police training school and fire insurace tax collection service.

Claim DuPont Firm Owner of Stock in German Arms Trust

Disclosure Made by Senate Munitions Investigating Committee

Washington—(AP)—A report asserting that E. I. Dupont De Nemours and Company, American chemical firm, owns $892,671 worth of stock in a giant German armament trust, has been made public by the senate munitions investigating committee.

The report showed that the Dupont company controlled 7.98 percent of the voting stock of the Dynamit (GQ) Actiengesellschaft—largest German explosives manufacturer—and had invested $1,159,904 in another German chemical firm, the I. G. Farben-Industrie.

An informal agreement between the Dynamit company and the Dupont firm providing for the exchange of information and patents and the division of sales territory was also disclosed by the committee.

The senate investigators, headed by Senator Nye (R., N. D.), declared in its final report that "the international commercial interests of such large organizations as Dupont and Imperial chemical industries may precede in the minds of those companies the importance of national policy. . . .

"Such considerations of commercial interests were apparently foremost in the re-arming of Germany beginning in 1924, and in the sale of a process which could be used to manufacture cheaper munitions in Japan in 1932, shortly after Secretary of State Stimson had taken steps to express the disapproval of this nation for Japan's military activities in Manchuokuo."

When the United States arms embargo prevented direct Dupont sales to certain nations, the committee said, the business was "turned over to Imperial Chemical Industries of England, with whom Dupont maintains the closest of connections, and Dupont was in a position to profit indirectly from any sales made without ostensibly violating the embargo."

TRANS-PACIFIC FLIGHT

BY DECK MORGAN

© 1936, NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

KAY DUNN, pretty young nurse, applies for a job as stewardess on Overland Airways. In the Overland office she encounters TED GRAHAM, veteran pilot, who flies the trans-Pacific route. Largely due to Graham's intervention, she is accepted for a trial period.

Two other girls, DORIS LEE and ALICE MILLER, are accepted on the same basis.

The three girls begin their preliminary training. Doris is first to win a regular job. Alice surprises the others by announcing her marriage to Chuck Jones, a pilot.

Kay is assigned to the western division, flying from Reno to San Francisco. She meets MONTE BLAINE, who is to fly the Pacific route with Ted Graham. Together they watch Graham make a landing in the big trans-Pacific liner.

Graham apparently is pleased to see Kay again, though he speaks to her only briefly, then returns to work.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER VIII

KAY awoke with the wish that she might fly down to the beach and find Ted Graham there, happily awaiting her. But it was the sun, streaming through the windows of the Girls' Club, that greeted her when she was wide awake.

This was her day! One day out of ten she could break the routine of her twice-daily flights as stewardess on the Overland Airways, to spend a day and night in Oakland. Her plane left at 3:05 for her home port of Reno, high up beyond the Sierra Nevada range on the fringe of the desert.

Standing in the shower, she sang. Last night she and Monte Blaine had danced until 3, but she felt completely fresh now after her sleep.

Just then the telephone jingled. Kay frowned and thought, "I'll tell him a thing or two." She wrapped the huge towel about her, went to the telephone and picked up the receiver, saying crossly, "Oh, don't be so tiresome. I was still in the shower."

But it was not Monte's laugh that greeted her; it was Ted Graham's voice.

"Crossed wires," Ted said. "Monte was just in the office and said you were free until this afternoon. I've put him to work and now he's out of the way! But if you want to inspect the Mariner—or—" he hesitated. "I'm driving up to the San Carlos valley to see the kid. You remember I told you about my adopted son, Dickie. When I'm in port I like to snatch him out of the military school and take him up to camp. It's lovely up there. Would you like to go?"

"Oh, I'd love it!" she said. "I can inspect the Mariner any time."

He said, "I'll come by for you in my car."

SHE dressed hurriedly. Ted, she knew, was anxious to see the boy and she didn't want to keep him waiting. She put on her simplest white linen frock with a gay kerchief, matching her green eyes, tied around her throat. She was waiting in front of the clubhouse when he drove up.

"There's something about you!" Ted said, puzzled.

Kay leaned back in the seat and watched the flashing panorama. They sped past the green hills of Berkeley and began to climb a road between the yellow walls of a canyon. Soon they were in a high valley where there were pleasant fields of wild flowers and little pines. Everything was freshly green and in bloom.

They drove up to a group of yellow buildings, nestled among some pines, and Ted got out, vaulting up the steps to the waiting room. He came out a few minutes later with Dickie.

Dickie was going on 8, and in his smart grey uniform looked very manly. Kay thought he was adorable. He had curly yellow hair and blue eyes and one dimple.

When Ted introduced Dickie he saluted her gravely, and then took her hand. He sat between them, his gloved hands resting in his lap. To her first question he said, "Yes, ma'am," but she asked him to call her Kay.

He looked to Ted for permission, and Ted grinned.

* * *

LATER, at the cabin in the valley, Ted said, "Dickie's mother died when he was born. His father was killed in an airplane crash when Dickie was 3. The kid hasn't had much family life."

Ted wouldn't let Kay do anything. He told her she'd get her dress soiled or a smudge on her face. She sat, watching him prepare their lunch and eyeing him with amusement.

The cooking was simple enough. There were only wieners to boil and coffee to be made. All the rest, a prepared lunch, Ted had brought with them.

But she observed that he knew how to make good coffee. She passed him a compliment that made him blush under his tan.

"I've been baching it for 15 years now—since my wife died. With Jerry Searles. Jerry was my bomber during the war and now he's a mechanic at the home port. Dickie adores him—but that was the trouble. The kid was hanging around the airport too much. That's why I put him in military school."

Ted busied himself with the pots and pans, then turned to her again.

"I'm pretty much of a lone wolf now. I've been living in the air—for the air. Back there—15 years ago—I was terribly in love with my wife. That was when flying was really dangerous. I survived several bad crashes, but she died, I believe, from a succession of shocks caused by the dangers of my job. That's why I never married again."

Kay said nothing. Dickie was watching a family of chipmunks, and they could hear the shrill chatter of the mother and babies high up in a tree. Kay walked away from the fire, toward the little pine grove by the brook.

* * *

She looked at him and smiled. "Of course I like you."

"There was a time," he said, "when I was impulsive, reckless, but that was a long time ago. Now I simply look straight ahead. This trans-Pacific flight is my life! I've spent five years preparing for it, and I hope to spend the next 10 years flying it. It's changed the slant of my life. I'm living for the air!"

"And for Dickie," she said, smiling.

He laughed. "Yes, I suppose so. Even a pilot has to have some real living—"

He looked down at her, and laughed again. His white teeth flashed. He pulled her close to him and kissed her.

"You're inevitable!" he said, and then let her go. They knelt, side by side, to dip the water up from the mountain brook. Kay watched her face, shimmering in the water. If Ted could only have read what was going on in her thoughts!

"Don't pay any attention to me," he said, low. "I like you. I think you're a swell girl and have since the moment I first saw you. But I'm looking out for you. You're a lot younger than I am. Get this straight, Kay. I like to pal around with you—but no wedding bells. It isn't fair not to tell you outright. Romance is behind me. I've got my job."

Kay gazed at her features in the water, wondering if Ted could possibly read in them what she felt close to her heart. She was in love with him. For a few moments she couldn't meet his eyes.

City Council Votes to Reject PWA Offer Of Grant For Streets

Pointing out the various virtually impossible things the Public Works Administration asked of the city in offering a grant of $58,050 for street improvements, the city council in its regular meeting last night instructed Mayor Fletcher J. Blackburn to reject the offer. The offer was rejected after a report by City Engineer Kenneth Stapleton, of a conference he had in Chicago with the state director C. H. Bauer, and with Col. Horatio B. Hackett, one of the area administrators.

The offer, announced a little over a week ago, was to be an outright gift to the city for improvements on the square, West Lafayette avenue, South Diamond, South Church and South East streets. The offer from the government was to pay 45 percent of the completed construction cost of all the projects.

The city engineer was instructed to draw up final plans and specifications for resurfacing West Lafayette avenue from North Main street to Finley when it became apparent that there was no hope of securing any of the PWA grant. It was decided to attempt to put a street through from North Main to Finley in order to give it an outlet on a state route, if proper arrangements could be made with the Wabash Railroad company for right of way. The state highway department is said to be opposed to extending the street any farther eastward than North Church street, because there is no outlet.

The city engineer, who made a trip to Chicago Monday to present the situation in which the city found itself when the grant was announced, declared that the number and type of things the PWA askeed the city to do, could not possibly be accomplished in the time allowed. He pointed out to the council that the project was submitted to the PWA Sept. 11, 1935, more than a year ago, and that twice since that time he had written to the state director in an effort to learn the status of the project.

The engineer reported that he wrote first in May, and then again in June, and in the final letter he said he stated that the city wanted to proceed with its work. The answer from Mr. Bauer, the city engineer reported, was that there were no funds available at that time, that the state director did not know when funds would be available, and did not know whether the Jacksonville project would be alloted when and if funds did become available, and therefore was unable to state the status of the project.

Reporting on the conference he had with the state director, the city engineer said that Mr. Bauer was disappointed when informed that the city already had let a contract for resurfacing the square. The state director pointed out that the city would have to rescind the contract before it could hope to qualify for the grant, in view of the fact that all of the proposed street improvements were listed as one project and would have to be let in one contract.

Talks To Hackett

That brought up another complication, the city engineer pointed out. He said he was fortunate in that Col. Hackett, who has his offices in Washington, was in Chicago, and was fortunate in that he was able to have a conference with him. In the conference with Col. Hackett, the city engineer said that he presented the present status of the city in regards to its contract with the McCalman company to resurface the square, and that tho city would have to go through some special assessment proceedings in order to have enough money on hand to pay for its share of the cost of re-finishing the other streets.

New obstacles began to crop up all through the discussion of the proposal, he said, and before he had concluded his round of conferences, it became apparent that there was no hope for the city to qualify for the grant. Col. Hackett said that he would submit the present contract with the McCalman company and all of the bids offered for the work, to the Washington office of the PWA, but would have to state that there was no PWA representative present when the contract was let, and that it would possibly require six weeks to get any official action.

That presented another obstacle, in that the city had no assurance that after the Washington officials had looked over the steps that had been taken to resurface the square, the PWA would allow the McCalman contract to stand. Work must be started on all projects for which allocations have been announced by Nov. 15.

There again came another problem. The State highway department will not allow cities to use Motor Fuel Tax funds for laying asphalt after Nov. 15, and the city planned to pay for Fuel Tax fund, part from a special part of its share out of the Motor assessment and the remainder from the 45 percent grant.

Frankly speaking, the city engineer told the council, he didn't see how the city was to get any of the grant. The largest obstacle was that of putting all of the money in the bank to pay for the city's share of the work by the time that contracts must be let and work started on the projects. He pointed out that it requires 90 days to put through a special assessment, if everything moves smoothly. He declared that his department could have everything ready soon enough, if the council could provide the necessary money, but that he didn't know where the money would come from soon enough to meet the PWA requirements.

Recalling what happened to the application for a PWA grant for a rehabilitated and extended water system, the council to a man was opposed to incurring any expense in hopes of obtaining part of the $58,050 grant. They pointed out that the government had the application for almost a year before it acted, and then asked the city to do in about 60 days what would require at least 90 days.

K. C. Committee Makes Plans For Member Campaign

To Initiate Class of Candidates Here Sunday October 18

Sounding a new keynote Tom Duffner, chairman of the membership drive for the Knights of Columbus told the Committee of 100 that assembled at the club rooms last night that from all visible signs one of the most successful drives for membership in the history of the local council will be consummated Sunday, October 18. This is the date set for the initiation of the huge class of candidates.

Mr. Duffner explained to the group present that the success of this campaign for membership was due to the increased interest in fraternal activities and from the fact that the younger generation are taking a profound interest in council meetings. He pointed out still further that due to this interest displayed that Catholic men are now seeking admittance to the order and the tables have been turned from the old manner when it was necessary to try to sell membership by high pressure methods.

The order itself has seen the new trend of things, he said. It has created this new interest itself through educational pamphlets such as its "Ten years of World War work," which began in 1917 and did not end until 1927 under the never-to-be forgotten slogan, "Everybody welcome," "Everything free." The order expended more than $44,000,000 for the direct benefits of service and ex-service men.

General Pershing paid the following tribute, said the speaker: "Of all the organizations that took part in winning the World War, with the exception of the military itself, there was none so efficient and ably administered as the Knights of Columbus."

The war work of the Order said Duffner, was relief work on a large scale. The records of the order is full of instances of less spectacular activities in behalf of those exposed to sudden hardships. The people of San Francisco, Colorado, Kansas, Ohio, Texas, Chelsea, and Salem, Mass. Ontario and Northern Minnesota, Florida, Cuba, Maryland, Missouri and Newfoundland, Puerta Rico, Kentucky, Saskatchewan and Nebraska and even far off Japan can bear witness to the orders unvarying policy of rendering prompt relief where fire, flood or hurricane has wrought catastrophe. It is probably unnecessary to say that no distinctions were made as to race or religion.

Duffner in a final summation made these remarks: I have only given this committee a trickle of the things that have been accomplished by the Knights of Columbus. I could add that the order has spent millions in its "Boy Life Work" and has contributed millions for endowment funds and educational work, of its work in home finding for Catholic orphans, and countless other activities. So through education of its deeds done, and coupled with the fact that the local club rooms when finished will be furnished in keeping with the trend of modern furnishing, a new interest has been created that in the course of a brief space of time every Catholic man in this district will seek admission into the Knights of Columbus.

Constitution Day Observed By DAR At Chapter House

Dr. M. L. Pontius Addresses Members At Thursday Meeting

Constitution Day was observed by the Rev. James Caldwell Chapter, D. A. R., on Thursday evening at the chapter house, with a supper and address delivered by Dr. M. L. Pontius, who declared that the nation really began its existence when the ninth state, New Hampshire, ratified the Constitution. "Obedience to law is liberty" he said and a few, 55 men, after the Revolution realized that the bickerings and jealousies must stop if the country was to survive.

Carrying out this thought further Dr. Pontius said that the Supreme Court is the safe guard of our liberty and the Constitution is the foundation. The enemies are ignorance, selfishness and indifference. These are also the enemies of the Constitution. This document is not studied enough nor read enough in our homes. Every individual should submit to memory the preamble and ponder over it.

In closing his most inspiring address Dr. Pontius quoted the Battle Hymn of the Republic in full, a most fitting climax to a splendid address.

The meeting was opened by the Regent Mrs. George Drennan, who followed the Salute to the Flag lead by Mrs. Herbert J. Capps, read to the society the objects of the organization from the new hand-book issued by the National society.

The musical program was given by Miss Armeda Woods, who sang several selections, accompanied by Mrs. Ralph Hutchinson at the piano. The numbers were: "Dream," Bartlett; "Somewhere a Voice Is Calling," Tate; and as an encore, "Silence of Night."

Farm Adviser, Geo. H. Reid, has announced that the normal time for seeding wheat in Scott county to avoid damage by the Hessian fly, most serious insect pest of wheat, is September 28. The fly-free date for Scott county was established as a result of a survey conducted by entomologists of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, Illinois State Natural History Survey, and the federal bureau of entomology.

However, it is expected that the danger of the Hessian fly will not be very acute this fall because the hot and dry weather has not favored its development.

Complete Plans For Annual YMCA Drive Next Month

Campaign for Funds to Start October 6 Directors Decide

At a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. board of directors held yesterday noon plans were completed for their annual campaign for funds which will be held this year on the week of October 6 to 13. Through A. R. Freeman, state secretary of the Y. M. C. A., the services of John A. Goodell, for many years a secretary of the National Y. M. C. A. staff, was secured to direct the campaign. Mr. Goodell will be in Jacksonville today to aid the local committee in working out the plan of organization.

While the program of the Y. M. C. A. has been seriously handicapped during the past four years due to the financial situation which has cut the budget of the Association nearly in half, in spite of this handicap a most creditable work has been done. During these years thousands of our boys and girls, as well as older folks, have participated in, or in other ways have enjoyed, the diversified activities which have been included in the Association program.

The financial report shows that the "Y" is in better shape than in any year since the bank crash. Besides providing each year for current operating expenses the board has also retired, annually, a portion of the indebtedness made necessary by the loss of community chest support as a result of the bank failure.

The board of directors is particularly anxious that those who have so generously supported the Y. M. C. A. thru' these trying years, should understand that it has not only been necessary each year to raise funds to carry on the current program, but it has also had the burden of decreasing the unexpected deficit which was not of their own choosing and was outside of their control. In this they refer specifically to the effects of the bank failure on funds available that year for the cost of operation. Each year since then the Association has not only lived within its budget but has gradually amortised its debt.

It has been called to the attention of the board by many progressive citizens that the physical appearance of the Y. M. C. A. property should be will be done out of funds necessary for continuing the work with the young people of this community.

The Y. M. C. A. is going to the friends of youth in Jacksonville, then, first, to secure funds to carry on the program of the "Y" for the year, secondly, to secure some reduction of its obligations, and in the third place to rehabilitate its headquarters.

For the 66 years of the Association's history in Jacksonville it has had the interest and loyal support of the citizens of the community. The board feels confident that this interest has in nowise diminished and that the broad and effective program of the Y. M. C. A., for the girls now as well as for boys, will result in a generous response to the call both for workers and for contributions.

MOST fresh water fish have air-bladders filled with nitrogen gas, and a small amount of oxygen, but marine fish have more of the latter than the former. These bladders not only make it possible for fish to float at any level, but enable them to withstand varying degrees of water pressure.

Abrupt Advance In Wheat Prices

Chicago, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Active buying that developed late today brought about an abrupt advance of wheat prices sharply in contrast with earlier setbacks.

Giving incentive to buyers at the last were curtailed estimates both of Canadian and southern hemisphere wheat yields, together with reports that Italy is negotiating with Roumania for the purchase of many million bushels of wheat. Moreover, arrivals of wheat at Canadian country stations were reported today as having shrunk to the smallest total since August 17.

Southwest advices that a large business in flour is being done added impetus to the late upturn of wheat values.

Wheat closed firm at the day's top figures, ½ to 1 cent above yesterday's finish, Sept. 115-115¼, Dec. 113¾-¾, May 112¾-½, corn ½-1¼ up, Sept. 115¾-¾, Dec. 96¼-¼, May 91¼-½, oats ¼-½ advanced, Dec. 43, and rye unchanged to ¼ higher, Dec. 81¼. Provisions closed unchanged to 12 cents off.

Winnipeg messages said the latest report for a 24-hour period showed Canadian rural marketings of wheat amounted to but 1,937,000 bushels against 3,131,000 a year ago. A current trade estimate put Canada's 1936 wheat production at 212,000,000 bushels, and another unofficial estimate indicated the southern hemisphere would have an exportable surplus of only 200,000,000 bushels. On the other hand, today's export takings of Canadian wheat were estimated at not more than 600,000 bushels.

Prices Sag In Swine Market

Chicago, Sept. 17.—(AP)(AP)—Another 50 cents to $1 per hundred-weight discount in wholesale dressed pork quotations was reflected in the hog market today, prices sagging again on modest receipts.

Although hogs weighing above 220 pounds were mostly steady and in instances strong, the others ruled weak to 25 cents lower. Extreme top was $10.75, off 5 cents, the lowest in two months.

Light loins, quoted at 23½ to 24½ cents a pound, have declined 3½ cents from the year's high reached on September 9, reflecting, livestock men said, slackened demand for choice cuts of pork.

The general cattle trade was steady as receipts were cut in anticipation of the Jewish holiday. Restricted outlet the suspension of Kosher buying for for heavy steers, cows and heifers, due to absence of Kosher buyers, gave the market for these a weak to 15 cents lower tone. Light steers and yearlings, however, were again in good demand at the week's 25 cents and better advance. Top of $10.25 was paid for yearlings and mediumweights.

Packers had to compete in the open market for the big supply of fat lambs today, the result being an active market. Fat lambs gained fully 25 cents, with spots up 40 to 50 cents late. Top was $9.75 for native steers.

Farm and Rural Interest

Small Apple Crop Reflected in Railroad Car Loading Report; Cucumber Patch Produces 40 Bushels a Day; Cass Four-H Show is Saturday

The effect of drought on the Illinois apple crop, particularly in Calhoun county, is seen in a car loading report of the Alton railroad. Ten cars were sent to East Hardin Monday of this week, one car being loaded out and railroad officials uncertain of when the others would be filled.

This time in September, 1935, over 800 cars of late apples had been shipped by the Alton alone. In 1936 the consignment of early apples was far below previous years.

Cucumber Patch Yields Forty Bushels Per Day

For some time past Mr. and Mrs. Orville Pyle, north of Detroit in Pike county, hvae been picking a fine crop of cucumbers. They have averaged 40 bushels a day for the past week. Mr. Pyle has been trucking some cucumbers to Missouri markets, as well as supplying several Illinois buyers.

Cass Four-H Show Will Be Event Of Saturday

Much interest has been manifest in Cass county in connection with the annual livestock show for Four-H club members of that county, which will be held Saturday at Bluff Springs. Sixty-five boys and girls will exhibit pigs, baby beeves, dairy cattle, farm colts and entries in poultry, vegetables and corn. The show will start at 10 a. m. with the judging of swine. In the afternoon baby beeves, dairy calves, colts and miscellaneous exhibits will be judged Cash prizes will be awarded the first five places in each class.

One of the most important livestock meetings to be held in Cass county in recent years will be held at the farm of Mark Skiles, seven miles southwest of Virginia, and six miles east of Arenzville, Friday, Sept. 25. The meeting will be in the order of a livestock demonstration, with market experts from Chicago, St. Louis and Springfield stockyards present.

Millions Of Pounds Of Soy Bean Oil Used

I. C. Bradley, Taylorville, Ill., told the American Soybean Growers association during a convention at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, that thirteen million pounds of soybean oil were used in paints and varnishes last year. One of every ten Illinois farmers now has one or more buildings covered with soybean oil paint, he said.

More thna 50 million pounds of the oil was used in compounds and vegetable shortenings, while more than 11 million pounds went into other edible products.

Among the articles cited by the Taylorville man in the manufacture of which soybeans played a part were artifical hands, Christmas tree ornaments, motor cars, office equipment, telephones and radios.

Soybean casein is being tried in the production if synthetc wool and soybean oil offers lecithin, an emulsifying agent, used by candy makers, cotton textile mills and other industreis, said Bradley, who is president of the Soybean Processors' association.

Filing Of Mortgage Aids Electric Plan

A mortgage of $135,000 was recorded in office of John R. Parker, Logan county recorder Monday by the Menard Electric Co-Operative, to the United States of America. Recording of the mortgage is a step in the advancement of a rural electrification project in Menard and Logan county under the national rural electrification administration. A. E. Becker of Petersburg is president of the co-operative.

Sees Terracing As Aid In Solving Erosion

Solution of the erosion problem which is recognized as serious on more than 18,000,000 acres of Illinois land lies in teracing coupled with good soil and crop practices on slipes not too steep and pastures and trees for the steeper slopes.

This is recommended in, "Terraces to Save Soil," a new circular issued by the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois containing a discussion of terrace construction and maintenance. The circular was prepared by E. W. Lehmann, head of the department of agricultural engineering, and R. C. Hay, extension specialist in agricultural engineering.

"Terraces not only save soil, but also are easier to cross with farming equipment than are gullies," the authors state. "Farming terraced land is not difficult once the farmer is willing to give up straight rows and try contour farming.

"Terraces also make for more efficient crop production at lower cost. Corn yields on terraced tracts of the Vienna experiment field in Johnson county averaged more than twice the production on the unterraced check area."

If only a limited amount of time can be spent in terracing, it is much better to build the two upper terraces well than to build four or five carelessly or inadequately, the circular recommends. On moderate slopes free from gullies and with experienced operators in charge of efficient equipment, the cost of terrace construction has been estimated to be about as much as plowing the land once.

In emphasizing the importance of proper terrace maintenance, the authors warn that no system of terraces however well planned and constructed can be successful over a period of years unless kept in good repair.

Stock Prices Up Two Cents

New York, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Quiet but persistent buying forces got behind the stock market today and rallied recently depressed issues fractions to around 2 points.

Leading the forward push were selected Steels, Rails, Motors, Oils, Coppers and Specialties.

Only the relatively slowness of trading detracted from the satisfaction in brokerage circles over ability of the list to reverse its backward trend.

The Associated Press average of 60 issues was up .4 of a point at 67.3 against a decline of .7 the previous day. Transfers totalled 773,370 shares compared with 1,042,412 yesterday. It was the smallest 5-hour volume since June 29.

Absence of many traders in celebration of the Jewish religious holidays accounted for some of the reduced attendance on the floor of the exchange and in boardrooms.

The Steels, which have lately lacked support because of some confusion surrounding the near-term labor outlook for this industry, took the lead in the upward move as signs pointed to expanding demand from various sectors and the possibility mill operations will soon push up to a new top for the year.

Analythical quarters were rather elated by the performance of the rails which have also been among lagging divisions.

A few automobile shares took a turn for the better as most factories were expected to start humming in the next week or so in production of 1937 models.

Telltale Evidence of Atrocities

Crucifixion and cremation were added to the many horrors inflicted on Badajoz, Hispano-Portuguese border town, where slaughter of 4000 persons signalized the victory of Spain's rebel forces. One of the conquerors points out the flame charred wall where it is charged loyalists crucified prisoners and burned them to death.
